The new Darren Farm plan is out for consultation

by PHILIP IRWIN

A REVISED development plan has been put forward for land at Darren Farm – but local residents say they will still be opposing it.

The plan has been submitted to the Vale Council's consultation on alterative candidate sites and, although the number of houses remains unchanged at 390, the development is spread over a larger area.

The alternative candidate site proposal runs to 556 pages, and has been prepared by a team of planning consultants.

It expands the existing Darren Farm housing application in the LDP, moving further into open countryside. A school is still included in the plan.

Speaking on behalf of the local residents' group, Dr Chris Pearce said: "It is in total conflict with the 2003 Public Inquiry Inspector's report, which recommended that the landscape should be preserved.

"The expanded proposal will completely obliterate Darren Farm – with the loss of livelihood of the tenant farmer – again contrary to the inspector's report".

The candidate site put forward would extend almost as far as the Cross Inn, with a link road from the A 48 joining the road to Llantwit Major close to the inn.

Two roundabouts will need to be built, one on the A48 and one near the Cross Inn.

John Homfray, who owns the land, told The GEM that the plan aimed to offer plenty of green space between housing, so that the development would be more in keeping with the appearance of Cowbridge.

The plan (above) illustrates this intention.

Police appeal after burglary at isolated house in Ystradowen

POLICE in the Vale are investigating the burglary of an isolated house in Ystradowen in which items of jewellery were stolen.

The burglary took place between Thursday, February 6 and Tuesday, February 11.

Access was gained to the detached property after the back door was forced open.

Among the items stolen were jewellery and watches which included a blue topaz and diamond ring, a diamond eternity ring, a pink sapphire and gold necklace and an antique Rolex watch.

Detective Constable Andy Moffatt of Central CID said the police were keen to hear from anyone who was in the area during the dates in question.

"We are appealing for any information regarding this burglary. There will have been some noise created by whoever is responsible.

"We want to hear from anyone who may have been in the area between Thursday and Tuesday and who may have seen anyone behaving suspiciously."

Anyone with any information which may assist the police in their investigations is asked to contact Detective Constable Andy Moffat of Central CID on 01446 731606 or anonymously via Crimestoppers on 0800 555111 quoting reference 1400043722 .

St Hilary wind turbine

THE application to put up a 99.5 metre-high wind turbine on the downs near St Hilary has attracted a healthy postbag in this week's GEM.

'We must save Barry before the floodgates open'

WEYCOCK Cross is under attack again... slipped in carefully is the appeal by Taylor Wimpey for 200 houses on Green Farm.

Sounds fairly harmless to those not immediately neighbouring (I am not, by the way) but if this is given the go-ahead, the floodgates will be well and truly open.

The Walters group have already put in an application for 600 houses-plus on Walters Farm across the road.

Cardiff and Vale College are promoting their Weycock site as possibly being suitable for 500 houses.

Brynhill golf course has an application for 200, plus someone has put 17 acres on the market opposite Bryn Hafren school for the princely sum of £150,000.

White Farm has 141 houses nearing completion and the Waterfront will be accommodating 1,700 new homes.

The Pencoedtre development has already added to the problems on Port Road and the recent planning consent for the Wenvoe development will only add to the rush-hour misery.

If those in Sully thought they were being clever nominating Weycock Cross as an alternative site, they may well get bitten on the backside. The additional traffic will need a route and there has always been a top road and bottom road to Cardiff.

St Nicholas and Peterson will also be impacted, as the folk who need to get to Cardiff to work look for alternative routes.

Barry has reached its capacity. The schools won't be able to accommodate the numbers and before long we will be looking for a site for a super school.

Doctors and dentists will be inundated and pity help anyone needing an emergency service.

Unless the people of Barry make a stand NOW we will not only be losing our green boundary and valuable farmland but we will see the haulage companies and other businesses, large and small, who need access in and out of Barry, leave for somewhere more economically favourable.

Holidaymakers and day trippers will head for easier destinations and Barry will become an enormous soulless housing estate.

We can have a say in this nonsense; it might not make a difference, but once the ball starts rolling there will be no stopping it. Please let's try because it is our town.

You can comment on this planning application on the Vale of Glamorgan Council website www.planningportal.gov.uk ref 2013/00701/out.

Sue Eldridge, Barry.

MP CRITIC HAS A POINT

I FEEL I must write in to say how disappointed I am with the attitude of the First Minister towards Ann Clwyd MP.

Instead of being in denial, when is Carwyn Jones AM and his team going to finally admit that there are failings in the Welsh NHS?

There is nothing wrong with Ann Clwyd's campaign for better standards in our Welsh NHS; after all, she is raising the concerns of the public. Perhaps if the Labour-run Welsh Assembly has nothing to hide, how about now holding an independent public inquiry?

As for evidence, can I suggest that Mr Jones has a look at just how bad our NHS is currently being run in Wales. With long waiting lists, high mortality rates and ambulances not reaching targets, I must say that I fully support Ms Clwyd in her campaign as we deserve much better.

'The Llandow Newydd plans do present advantages' SAYS READER

THE GEM article, 'Could Llandow Newydd plan still find favour with council planners', March 27, will raise much needed awareness of this large brown-field site.

However, some clarity is needed with regard to the conclusion of the judicial review which may be seen as a decision against development.

Council officials held the view that a new settlement was the last option under government guidance but consultants employed by the council wanted to include Llandow Newydd as an option in the LDP process.

The paragraph in the guidance went on to say new settlements "should only be proposed where (they) would offer significant environmental, social and economic advantages over the further expansion or regeneration of existing settlements."

Many people I know believe Llandow Newydd would do just that.

My understanding is that Lord Justice Beatson ruled on four grounds but did not give an opinion on the merits of a new settlement.

The issues at the judicial review were insufficient information in the officers' report; pre-determination; conflict of interest, and inadequacy of statutory consultation. I understand the judge found in favour of the council on those matters and not against a new settlement.

He stated that planning judgement is not an issue for the court.

Dennis Harkus, FocusBARRY member

Vale taxpayers won't forget the council increase

I NOTE that in his recent letter Coun Neil Moore is proud of his council's long term budget strategy.

Presumably this pride includes delivering a higher council increase than almost any other council – almost 10 per cent in the past two years.

Salaries and wages are not even keeping up with a much lower inflation figure let alone the outrageous tax increases imposed by his council each year!

I am sure the council taxpayers will remember Coun Moore's boast at the next election.

MT Hopkins, Cowbridge.

'Tax rise not sustainable'

ONCE again, the Vale residents are faced with another outrageous increase in council tax, a rise of 4.5 per cent which is one of the biggest in the UK.

The Vale council say they are underfunded significantly by the Welsh Government.

Last year the rise was 4.8 per cent; this situation is not sustainable. How do these politicians think these increases will be funded?

(Name and address supplied.)

Pot hole madness

IS it any wonder that fly tipping happens in the Vale when access to the amenities site is so bad?

The potholes on Llandow have been terrible for years, it's not a new thing, but the surface that greeted me on my arrival on Friday resembled something akin to the surface of the moon.

It's disgusting that it's allowed to be like this and people have to risk severe damage to their cars just to dispose of waste in a manner which the council insists upon.

In my opinion, it's high time the site was either moved or there was a complete overhaul of the roads system, both on the site and the road leading to it.

Throughout the Vale, the roads leading to the A48 either from Llancadle or St Athan via Cowbridge are a danger to anyone who drives. Just what are we paying our road tax for?

It seems we can spend 18 months straightening the road by Aberthaw but we can't even get the roads we currently have in any suitable shape for us to drive on!

James Snelson, St Athan.

The Dinas Powys 'Family Practice' lived up to its name!

March 31 was a sad day in Dinas Powys – it was the last day for the 'Family Practice' on Cardiff Road.

As patients for nearly 30 years, my wife and I have received superb medical care from Dr Llewellyn and Dr Cherry, as well as from the practice nurses.

The receptionists too, have always handled our enquiries with great efficiency.

The Family Practice lived up to its name and embodied the traditional concept of the doctors becoming family friends. They will be sorely missed.

Thank you to all the staff, and special best wishes to Dr Llewellyn on her retirement.

David and Betty Chapman, Dinas Powys

'What will be fate of Watchtower bats?'

IT is encouraging to learn that the heritage of the Watchtower at Watchtower Bay, Barry is to be finally preserved and has been sold at auction.

At last this beautiful old building is set for preservation after many years of total neglect by its former custodians.

We at Barry First Group believe in the preservation of Barry's heritage most strongly and see that at last a step in the right direction has taken place.

As readers may already be aware, the building has suffered over the years from long periods of neglect and poor maintenance. It has been occupied a few times over the years by various organisations, the last being the local sea scouts/cadets.

Currently its only inhabitants are one of nature's fascinating nocturnal creatures namely bats. The bats have made this building their habitat in recent years and now with the weather starting to warm up the bats are beginning to emerge from hibernation.

However, I do have some serious concerns about the eventual fate of these lovely creatures when preservation and modernisation of this iconic Barry landmark begins.

If you share the same or similar concerns for the population of bats currently inhabiting The Old Watchtower then please contact The Bat Conservation Trust UK. The web address is www.bats.org.uk.

Transport key to airport's future

THE recent announcement concerning increased passenger numbers for Cardiff Airport is welcome news.

However, no amount of active marketing can mask the fact that transport infrastructure is one of the key elements in securing the future of the airport.

There is no direct link with the M4 and a rail service should feed into the airport itself.

Several years ago, there was an expensive consultation programme regarding the local road network, which included an option for a direct road link from the airport to the M4. Result: nothing was done – probably because of vested interests in the rural Vale.

I'm sure the Welsh Government and the Val Council are aware of these deficiencies, but until they address the issue of transport infrastructure, the progress that can be made at Cardiff Airport will be severely limited.

In addition, these authorities must also be aware that this is also a bugbear for local people. With thousands more houses planned, neither the Vale nor our so-called representatives in Cardiff Bay show any inclination to undertake the major work required to prevent gridlock on the major routes into and from the Vale.

If they want the local economy and the Vale to thrive, these issues must be addressed. Not to do so is an abdication of responsibility.

Derek Hooper, Barry.

Penarth docks' 150th anniversary

I WONDER if your many Penarth readers were aware that next year will be the 150th anniversary of the opening of Penarth docks in 1865 – and, in effect, the establishment of the 'new' town of Penarth?

Gone was the old typical Vale of Glamorgan rural parish consisting of a number of farms, a (rather notorious) public house – The Penarth Head Inn – demolished to make way for the dock's Custom House, as well as the medieval tumbledown St Augustine's Church – demolished to make way for the present church in order to serve a rapidly growing population.

The purpose of this letter is to ask – is anything going to be done to celebrate this anniversary next year?

Penarth has been quite successful over the years in supporting the festivals it hosts. Surely Penarth 150 should inspire any number of community events. The town's seafaring past, sports, famous inhabitants such as Dr Joseph Parry (hint – music concerts?), Saunders Lewis (drama productions?), Alfred Sisley (exhibition?), railway heritage, Marconi and so on!

Maybe a great project for the Penarth Town Council and the many groups and societies in the town, not to mention the churches, chapels and schools?

Penarth tends to be overshadowed by its giant neighbour Cardiff – so the chance of engaging in a unique year devoted to the town should surely not be overlooked! Any suggestions from your readership?

Brian Keitch, Penarth.

Mckinley and Edie remember grand-dad with a charity run

by PHILIP IRWIN

A YOUNG brother and sister recently raised more than £700 for the British Heart Foundation by deciding to do a five-mile run through country lanes around their home in the Vale.

The inspiration for their effort was someone they had never known – their grandfather who died of a heart condition before they were born!

Mckinley Parsons, aged 10, and Edie Parsons, aged eight, lost their grandfather Jim Mckinley to heart disease before they were born so never had the chance to meet him.

However, they were told many stories about him, and his sad death was brought into focus one day at school in St David's Primary, Colwinston, when the school held a 'Healthy Hearts' day.

Mckinley and Edie Parsons, with their younger sister, Beau.

This set them thinking and, on their way home from school, Mckinley and Edie decided that they wanted to raise money and awareness for the British Heart Foundation.

Their mother Sharon told The GEM: "They planned a five-mile run, starting and finishing from our home in Llampha. Their father drove the route to check the mileage."

However, the run hit an unforeseen snag when the high winds hit the Vale some weeks ago. A tree blew down in the garden, and another car trip was necessary to see if the roads were clear of fallen trees.

They were so, despite the windy weather, Mckinley and Edie set off on the run.

Sharon said: "Their father rode on his bike to keep them safe, and I drove their little sister, Beau, to the halfway point with refreshments.

"Beau was also responsible for setting up the finishing line, so they could break the tape together for a big finish."

"One mile in, Edie twisted her ankle but was determined to complete her challenge, even though her dad offered to take her the last mile on his bike.

"She refused and completed it on foot!"

When it came to sponsorship, they had a great response from family and friends. Staff and pupils from St David's were supportive, and Mckinley also had donations from team members in Cowbridge under-11s rugby team.

The total recently passed £700 and the Justgiving pages have not yet closed. (They can be found at www.justgiving/Edie.Parsons or www.justgiving/Mckinley.Parsons).

Sharon concluded: "One thing I can be sure of is that their grandfather would have been extremely proud of them!"

'Wind turbine an industrial eyesore'

WITH reference to the proposed wind turbine at St Hilary, all residents and voters in the Vale should take exception at this proposed industrial pollution of the Vale.

If erected, this piece of industrial eyesore will be very visible from across the Bristol Channel.

It is claimed that 0.6mw will be generated, sufficient for 500 homes. This is true if the turbine is operating at 100 per cent of designed capacity operating 24/7. This never happens as the wind is not constant – in fact, the wind blows less than 10mph on 130 days a year.

The recorded average efficiency of wind turbines, when working, is a reported 17 per cent.

I challenge Greenfinch Investments and Andrew RT Davies AM to prove the economic argument for the wind turbine without considerable subsidy.

There are also questions concerning the 'green benefit' argument when you take the volume of 'greenhouse gases' created during manufacture, transportation for erection, regular servicing, etc.

Mr Andrew RT Davies has already built a solar farm on his land, an eyesore, and he wants to compound it.

The general perception that our political representatives are self-serving is more than confirmed with this application.

G John Owen, Cowbridge.

A poetic message to all drivers!

HAZARD lights on are no excuse!
For causing mayhem in our town.
Parking without due care
Is no excuse for those that come...
Caring not for mums with buggies,
Blocking pavements you yellow line huggies
Is no excuse!
Spare a thought you blue badge holders for those who have to navigate
Your cars abandoned without thought,
For wheelchairs, buggies all distraught
In the middle of the road.
Children cannot safely go
For fear of cyclists, not stopping even on the crossing!
Courtesy, respect is out the door
For those who care no more.
Breakfast bought on zig zag lines
Stop to eat nearby the Limes!
The Waitrose shoppers think they can Pull out without a thought.
Abuse you get to ask politely
As you drivers care for nought, the havoc and danger caused by you who disrespect the town.
Too lazy many park and walk yet quick to talk!
And swear abuse!
Fifteen cars can pass me by
While I wait my right of way
To navigate
From Westgate to Eastgate!

PUPILS TAKE A GRAND TOUR OF CATHEDRAL

YEAR-6 pupils at St David's Church in Wales Primary School, Colwinston, had an enjoyable and enlightening morning at Llandaff Cathedral recently.

They met the new Dean and were involved in discussions about saints and symbols. They also took part in a range of other interesting activities, including an exploration of the building, a treasure hunt and a trip up the tower, where they had the chance to ring the church bells.

Some raced through the cathedral... and two children even had the opportunity to dress up in the clothes of a bishop.

Children marvelled at the wonderful sights within. Special heart-felt prayers, written by the children, were placed on the cathedral's prayer table.

Student in Shakespeare festival

GABRIELLE FERNIE from Cowbridge is one of just 42 students chosen to perform on stage at the world-famous Shakespeare's Globe in London as part of the Sam Wanamaker Festival.

The festival, from Globe Education, is the biggest celebration of young acting talent in the UK. Gabrielle, a third year student at ArtsEd (Arts Educational Schools), London, will join 41 other student actors from the UK's top drama schools for an intensive weekend of professional training, before a final performance on the Globe stage on Sunday, April 6 at 4pm.

Gabrielle and fellow student Lewis Maiella, from Australia, will represent their drama school with a scene from Shakespeare's The Taming of the Shrew. The performance is the culmination of the weekend's workshops and masterclasses, aimed at helping the students to explore their craft.

Gabrielle said: "It sounds cheesy, but I knew I wanted to become an actor from the age of four, when I 'starred' as Mary in my school nativity play. Unfortunately, I was missing my front two teeth and baby Jesus's left arm fell off during the performance. To go from a toothless Mary to performing on one of the most famous stages in the world is an absolute dream come true."

Pensioners have busy times ahead

AT the recent AGM of Wick and District Pensioners' Club (WPC), Ron Ayres was re-elected chairman, Fay McGuinness as deputy chair, Margaret Deary as secretary, George Jeffery as treasurer, and all committee members were re-elected.

Wick Pensioners have joined the youth club – planning joint activities! It is hoped that they can all get on a speed-boat in Cardiff Bay and later, if not too seasick, go bowling together.

As usual, WPC are in full swing with a recent coach trip to Carmarthen, and future coach trips to Abergavenny, the Cotswolds, and Western-Super-Mare.

A canal boat lunch and cruise on the River Avon is also planned. WPC will have a tombola and book stall at the Wick fete on June 7. An Easter party is planned for April.

Recent club meetings have included a quiz, a party (of course!) and an excellent, interesting photographic display from Geoff from the Bridgend Photography Club.

There are sometimes spare seats on the coach trips.

WPC meets on alternate Wednesdays from 2pm to 4pm in Wick. For further information, contact George on 01656 890386.

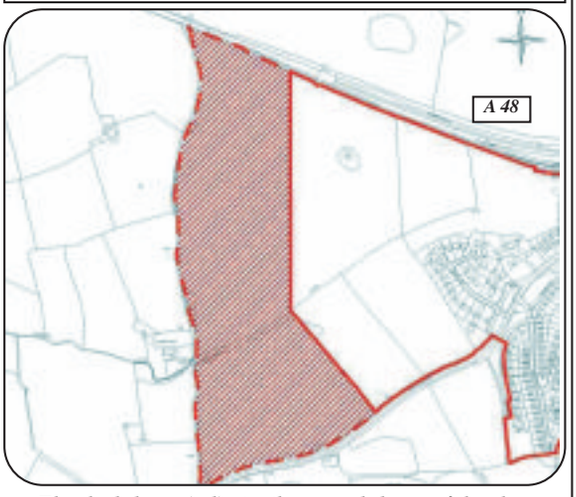
Development plan has been put forward



The shaded area indicates the expanded area of the plan. The white area lined in red is the existing plan.

Mr Homfray added: "Of all the proposed housing developments in the Cowbridge area, this was the only one which would deliver infrastructure improvements.

"The Vale Council would get a new school, and a link road from the A48 would cut traffic congestion in Cowbridge.

"The proposal at Primrose Hill, for instance, will not generate any general infrastructure work."

For the residents' group, Dr Pearce said that such large developments were not needed, and commented: "The residents group has proposed eight alternative sites inside the present Cowbridge boundary which would add a more modest and proportionate 100 to 120 dwellings, with no intrusion on the town's greenfield setting."

John Homfray added: "When Darren Farm was first proposed 15 years ago, the proposed link road from the A48 was rather inferior, and it was turned down by the inspector.

"This scheme has much better quality infrastructure, and the inspector who eventually looks at the final LDP will make a decision in the light of this.

"Even if he approves, I would emphasise that there is a very long road to go down before anything happens.

"The developers are being asked to pick up a large tab in terms of infrastructure, so the future of the plan will depend on a number of factors."

Broadway play in Cowbridge

THE God of Carnage*, the Broadway hit which starred James Gandolfini in his final role, will be performed at the Market Theatre in Cowbridge over three nights, April 10-12.

Please note that the dates are different from those printed in last week's GEM.

Market Theatre is the official home of CADS, the Cowbridge Amateur Dramatic Society and this is their annual spring production. Doors open at 7.30pm, leaving time for drinks at the bar before the curtain goes up at 8pm.

Tickets cost £6.50 from WG Davies Newsagent's, 38 Cowbridge High Street, or on the door.

Great work of Dogs Trust is explained

THE March meeting of the St Hilary WI took place on Tuesday, March 11 in the village hall.

The proceedings started with a presentation on behalf of the Dogs Trust, given by Linda Feagan and her rescue dog, Ruby.

Ruby, a Cavalier spaniel, was handed in five years ago at about a year old. She was probably a casualty of a puppy farm and had to have two operations on her knee.

She is one of the lucky ones and was adopted by Linda as her special pet.

The Dogs Trust (formerly known as the Canine Defence League) was founded in 1891 and is the largest dog welfare charity in the UK.

Their mission is to bring about the day when all dogs can enjoy a happy life, free from the threat of unnecessary destruction.

Their well-known mantra, 'We never put a healthy dog down' epitomises their attitude towards the welfare of dogs.

Each year they care for around 16,000 stray and abandoned dogs at their nationwide network of 19 Rehoming Centres (with several more in the pipeline).

They have an on-going campaign against Puppy Farming (Battery Farmed Dogs is a more accurate description) as puppies are bred for profit and are often kept in over-crowded pens with little or no regard for their welfare.

Such puppies are open to disease, deformity and behaviour problems (due to their lack of normal human contact).

Their nearest rehoming centre is in Bridgend and much useful advice can be found on their website.

After Linda's fascinating presentation, refreshments were served and then the business part of the meeting was conducted by the president, Betty Thomas.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Betty thanked Jackie Roberts and Barbara Gay for their effort in organising and running a fund-raising games afternoon in Aberthin Village Hall.

A great time was had by all and it was deemed to be a resounding success.

It was decided that half the money raised would go to the Institute funds and the other half to be shared between Macmillan Nurses and ACWW (Associated Country Women of the World).

Arrangements were made for the St Hilary WI birthday lunch at the Bush Inn on Wednesday, April 2. The next meeting will be held in the Village Hall on Tuesday, April 8 at 7pm.

Bont Faen WI is to celebrate anniversary

WI LADIES from Llanblethian, Ystradowen, Llanharry, Penllyn, Colwinston and Llysworney came together to celebrate Bont Faen WI'S 25th anniversary in Cowbridge Town Hall on March 27.

Margaret Bourke provided a look back at the last 25 years. In 1988, original group members hailed from Llandow; 10 members, four of whom were in their 80s, decided to close.

After consultation with the Glamorgan Federation it was thought that a new WI in Cowbridge would be a good idea as the existing Cowbridge group met in the afternoon and did not have working members.

At the inaugural meeting in 1989, assisted by Sheena Sargeant and Ann Williams, an enthusiastic group of young mums formed Bont Faen WI, the first president being Jackie Sweeney and they met in the new leisure centre in the evenings.

Cowbridge WI eventually folded and then 'we' moved into the Lesser Hall. Many past presidents remain members of the group to this day - Lynne Addison, Margaret Price, Diana Sloman, Anne Hordley, Jean Downing, Sue Dibben, Jean Lloyd, Jan Riddell and Jacky Jones.

During our formation year, Margaret Price attended the WI AGM in the Royal Albert Hall, and we have had a presence at Royal Welsh Shows, Royal National Esteddfordi, the National Garden Festival at Ebbw Vale and taken part in Glamorgan WI Federation pantomimes.

We have sung in Gymnfa Gani and in carol festivals, taken part in the Denman Fanfare, represented our members at AGMs and TGMs and generally kept ourselves informed about what is happening locally, nationally and globally.

A special celebration deserved a special guest speaker, and Rachel Brennan's story of her life as a Parisienne Bluebell Girl kept everyone enthralled. Born in Wales, trained as a ballet dancer, principal at the Moulin Rouge and Bluebell at the Lido, Rachel returned to the UK to join the West End musical Cats, followed by one-woman shows throughout Los Angeles and Las Vegas.

Rachel demonstrated to us her continued fitness levels with many high kicks, a wondrous swirl of her original fans and running through her dance routines with obvious fondness, referring to her time dancing with the 'sweetest of men', Craig Revel Horwood. Photos of her dancing days were passed around; glamour indeed to the envy of most!

Bont Faen members pulled out the stops and provided a lavish buffet; co-ordinated by Jane Crow who also skilfully provided the anniversary cake. Thanks were given for attendance to June Humphrey and Carolyn Davies of Glamorgan Federation House, and other senior representatives and past members. The quiz was won by Llysworney members, and Llanblethian provided a vote of thanks since they will host the group meeting in 2015.

A collection of Bont Faen WI photo albums were on display, raising smiles of delight at our youthful looks, memories of many happy walks, speakers, parties and dinners. All good reasons why we enjoy being members of the WI, and long may our group continue. Meetings are held at 8pm on the third Thursday of each month in the Lesser Hall. Feel free to drop in for a taster session.

See next week's GEM for photographs fo the 25th anniversary celebrations. JH

Students carve a niche in Galilee Chapel project

FIFTEEN pupils from Llantwit Major Comprehensive School, studying for their GCSE applied art, had the opportunity to try their hand at carving stone for the first time – as part of Galilee chapel project, which is being supported by the Heritage Lottery Fund.

Gareth Kiddie, the project activities co-ordinator explained: "The recently restored chapel at St Illtud's Church, houses the finest collection of Celtic stone crosses outside of the National Museum's own collections.

"As part of the project, we are inviting local school pupils to contribute their own ideas for the design of a new stone that will be set in the floor of the chapel.

"The workshop was organised to help them become familiar with the tools and techniques used for carving stone."

The pupils spent the whole day at the church, making drawings and taking photographs of the stone monuments that encapsulate over 1,000 years of history. When they return to school, they will be concentrating on developing their own designs, under the guidance of Welsh sculptor Dilys Jackson, who has been brought in to assist.

Sculptor Dilys Jackson gives instruction in carving.

After the event, Simon Thomas head of art at Llantwit Major Comprehensive School said: "This has been a fantastic opportunity for our pupils. It's great that they are involved in a real life design project with the help of Dilys and they've benefitted immensely from having a go at carving a stone for themselves.

"I think it's shown them just how skilled the masons were all those centuries ago."

The church was grateful to Architectural Stone, a Cardiff-based firm of stonemasons who donated the stones and provided a mason for the day.

The company's representative Kelly Davies said: "We are always keen to support community projects and this one is very special. It's so important to ensure that traditional crafts are maintained.

"Who knows, one of these young people might end up taking an interest in becoming a stonemason."

The school project is set to run until Easter when there will be an exhibition of the pupils' work at the church.

Vale gets £4 million to tackle poverty

THE Vale is due to receive more than £4 million from the Welsh Government over the next two years to be spent on deprived communities.

The Deputy Minister for Tackling Poverty, Vaughan Gething, made the announcement last Monday (March 31).

The investment includes the Welsh Government's flagship programme to help those living in the poorest areas of Wales, Communities First, which will get £550,000 over the next financial year.

An offshoot, Families First, which is aimed at improving the way agencies work together and places an emphasis on early intervention for families, particularly those living in poverty, will get £1.5 million in the Vale.

The Flying Start scheme, that supports children to have the right start in life by providing eligible parents free quality childcare for children under the age of four, parenting support, an enhanced health visitor service and help with their children's early language development, is to be expanded and the Vale will get £2.3 million.

Vaughan Gething said: "The Welsh Government is facing unprecedented cuts. By 2015/16 our budget will be nearly £1.7 billion less than it was in 2010/11.

"Despite this, we are determined to invest in our most deprived communities to help improve health, education and life chances".

New wind turbine is approved on iconic building

ON Tuesday this week, the Vale Council approved planning permission for a wind turbine to be located on top of the Llantwit Major Windmill.

Once complete it is expected that the electricity generated by the turbine will reduce bills to some 400 nearby houses.

Several local residents said they were delighted that planning approval had been given and hope the turbine will be up and running by the end of the year.

Although the Windmill is hundreds of years old, it has never had a 'sail' or 'blade' fitted in its history.

The artist's impression shows what the impressive turbine will look like on completion.

Former colleagues support 'Brain Tumour Research' in loving memory of Hugh

THE Bridgend-based property and construction company, Jehu Group, has chosen the UK's foremost brain tumour research organisation as its charity partner, in memory of a member of staff who lost his battle in September.

Hugh Walker, from Llandow village, died after being diagnosed just five months earlier, aged 46. He was the father of four children, Josh, Naomi, George and Jasmine, and husband to Amanda.

Following his family's wishes, the company has chosen to support Brain Tumour Research, which supports the prevention and treatment of over 120 types of brain tumour.

In the UK, brain tumours are the biggest cancer killer of children and adults under 40, yet research remains underfunded, receiving only 0.7 per cent of national cancer research spending.

Since up to 40 per cent of cancer spreads to the brain, research and treatment is crucial due to the rising incidence of the disease and its 18.8 per cent five year survival rate.

The partnership will support the charity to manage its existing research centre of excellence in Portsmouth, and launch its new research centres, including two in London and one in Plymouth.

The centres will aim to establish unprecedented brain tumour research expertise within the UK.

Ian Watson, head of fundraising at Brain Tumour Research, said: "We are honoured to be the Jehu Group's new charity partner.

"This collaboration will help us in our mission to help people to fight this devastating disease.

"Ultimately it will lead to better outcomes for patients – from improved awareness for earlier diagnosis, to the development of more effective personalised treatments and targeted drugs. Through the funds generated, we will be able to significantly fast-track progress towards finding a cure for brain tumours."

'COMMITMENT'

Simon Jehu, of the Jehu Group, said: "I am delighted that Brain Tumour Research is our charity partner in remembrance of Hugh Walker. Hugh worked with us at Jehu for nearly 10 years as a working foreman, and was a dear friend and colleague.

"Our commitment is a tribute to him, his wife and children, particularly Josh who works with us as a carpenter.

"Brain Tumour Research's inspirational work against brain cancer is vital to improve the shocking survival rates.

"We are passionate about helping to advance the treatment of brain tumours in adults and children, and the whole company took part in a sponsored 'Wear a Hat Day' in March.

"We are also holding a team triathlon in September. We raised over £3,000 for charity last year with our inaugural triathlon and we want this year to be even more successful.

"We are hoping to get other companies from our industry involved with a target to double our fundraising from our 2013 total. Teams this year will compete for the Hugh Walker Cup."

Hugh's wife Amanda said: "I am truly grateful for all the commitment Jehu Group has shown in remembrance of Hugh.

"It will be brilliant to support this important cause with the team that Hugh enjoyed working with for many years.

"I can't wait to get involved with the upcoming fundraising plans, knowing that the money raised will significantly aid Brain Tumour Research in its mission to save lives and help treat patients with brain tumours."

New slipway opens up beach

THE Vale Council has completed construction of a new concrete slipway at Llantwit Major beach to provide easier access for pedestrians.

It was designed and built by the highways and engineering department, using 70 cubic metres of specialist concrete.

At the official opening local councillor Gwyn John, cabinet member for leisure, parks, culture and sport development, commented: "I am delighted that this facility has been constructed for access to the beach. This will allow a safe route for pedestrians to enjoy the beach, particularly during the summer period, and will be a welcome benefit to Llantwit Major."

ON Monday, March 24 many local dignitaries, contributors, funding bodies and guests attended the official opening of the Bonvilston Community History Exhibition at St Mary's Church in Bonvilston.

A short service of dedication, led by Rev Martyn Davies, was followed by an excellent buffet and conversation in the Red Lion.

The project, funded by HLF and Creative Rural Communities through the Pride in Your Heritage fund, has been many years in the making.

A group of 10 enthusiastic villagers have created a wonderful display with many photographs from the early 1900s.

The exhibition opened to the public on Monday, March 31 and is open Monday to Friday from 10am to 4pm.

'PEOPLE LIKE YOU... CAUSE CHILDREN TO BE ABUSED' - SAYS JUDGE

A Pendoylan man (69) had child porn on two computers

CARDIFF CROWN COURT REPORT by AJ SICLUNA

A RETIRED businessman has received a suspended sentence at Cardiff Crown Court after police found pornographic images of children, some as young as 10, on his computer.

Ross Allan (69), a man with no previous convictions, of Heol St Catwg, Pendoylan, was said to have run and founded a charity, Wellwishes, which provided water wells in poverty-stricken African countries.

He pleaded guilty to five charges of making indecent images of children, two of possessing extreme pornography and one of possessing 148 indecent images.

He was jailed for six months, the sentence suspended for two years, made subject to a supervision order for 18 months and ordered to pay costs of £535. He will also have to register as a sex offender for five years.

Judge Tom Crowther QC told him: "The police were alerted to your predilection. It is important to note that people like you create a market and cause children to be abused. Every child depicted is a victim."

The judge said that Allan was of previous positive good character and had indicated a high degree of self-knowledge.

Prosecutor Jason Howells said that intelligence was received by the child abuse section of South Wales Police, and on August 20, officers went to Allan's home.

He told them: "People have sent me pictures of children which are indecent."

The officers seized two laptops, each of which contained indecent images, some static, some were moving.

Allan said during interview that he used chat sites for stimulation, and got "sexual kicks" out of conversations.

Some images, he said, came by email, or through chat rooms. He said he was horrified to think that people believed he had paedophile tendencies and added that he was disgusted by his behaviour, and that he understood the girls involved were of a vulnerable age.

His barrister, Tim Evans, said: " This is an aspect of his life of which he is ashamed. He made immediate admissions and has been to two counsellors for a course of therapy. His wife fully supports him."

Judge Crowther also made a Sexual Offences Prevention Order for five years.

Appeal after a dead dog is dumped

RSPCA Cymru is appealing for information after the body of an emaciated dog was found dumped at the side of a lane in the Vale.

The large female Doberman was discovered in Penmark near Barry on Tuesday, March 25, wrapped in three distinctive duvets, and had a docked tail. She was not wearing a collar and had not been microchipped.

Inspector Christine McNeil said: "This poor dog had probably died within 24 hours of her body being found. She was painfully thin and all of her bones were protruding but she hadn't suffered any visible injuries."

Anyone with any information is urged to contact the inspector's information line in confidence on 0300 123 8018 leave a message for inspector McNeil.

MP and AM join in the Sport Relief Mile

VALE residents taking part in the Sport Relief Mile on Barry island on Sunday were joined by the local MP Alun Cairns and the Vale AM, Jane Hutt.

Mr Cairns commented: "Judging by the number of people at the starting line on Sunday, this year's Sport Relief mile in Barry will have raised a great deal of money for the campaign. It was a great turnout on the day and a much needed run-out for me, particularly with the London Marathon approaching so quickly.

"It was also wonderful to see so many people of all ages and abilities, from toddlers with their parents, to competitive athletes and those like myself who like to keep fit."

Jane Hutt was accompanied on the run by Coun Lis Burnett.

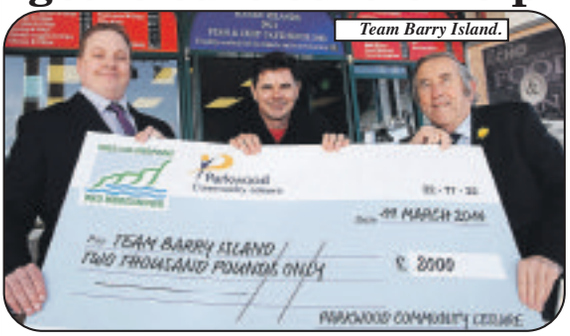
NFU meeting will discuss rural issues

LOCAL farmers are invited to the next Glamorgan NFU Cymru county meeting, on Wednesday, April 9 at the Duke of Wellington Hotel, Cowbridge.

Starting at 7.30pm, members will have the opportunity to discuss policy issues including the two current Welsh Government consultations on the Rural Development Plan 2014 – 2020 and the EID movement reporting system and identification for sheep/goats.

Abi Reader, NFU Cymru Glamorgan county chairman said: "The future of the Rural Development Plan will affect every farmer and this meeting is an opportunity to discuss concerns and get some clarity on the decisions that will be made by Welsh Government. This meeting is open to all NFU Cymru members and I do hope we will get a good turnout."

'Gavin to Stacey' cyclists get leisure centre help



Team Barry Island.

PARKWOOD LEISURE, which operates the Vale Council's leisure centres, has presented £2,000 to a local team taking part in the 'Gavin to Stacey' charity cycle ride this summer.

Craig O'Shea's team, aptly named Team Barry Island, aim to cycle an impressive 250 miles beginning in Billericay on Friday, August 22 and arriving in Barry Island on Sunday, August 24.

Craig said: "We have been overwhelmed by the support shown and are extremely grateful to Parkwood Leisure for their generous donation.

"The charity we are raising money for is Ty Hapus Alzheimer's Society. It is a unique respite care facility, based at 163 Holton Road, Barry, for people who have been diagnosed with early onset Alzheimer's."

Speaking on behalf of Parkwood Leisure, the general manager James Webber said: "We are delighted to support this great event. Craig and his teammates have started their training at Barry Leisure Centre so I don't think they are going to have any problems."

Coun Gwyn John, cabinet member for leisure, parks, culture and sports development, said: "We are looking forward to welcoming all the teams back to Barry Island and will be asking people to turn out and show their support for what will be a wonderful achievement."

VALE MP's VIEWPOINT

'Health an issue all-too important to ignore'

Vale MP Alun Cairns reports to GEM readers

Health has dominated the news agenda recently. It is unfortunate that the NHS is all too often used as a political football.

In the first instance, we need to recognise the efforts of all nursing, clinical and support staff that do a good job under trying circumstances.

Any questions or doubts that I raise relate to senior management and politicians who must be held accountable for any failure – and receive credit for success.

Politics really does become severe when one of the most respected and experienced MPs, Ann Clwyd, raises concerns and is sadly criticised by her own colleagues for doing so. In spite of this, the Cynon Valley MP won't back down.

Ms Clwyd has said that her husband was treated at the University Hospital like a 'battery hen' before his untimely death. This led to her raising a question to the Prime Minister.

As a result, the PM asked Ms Clwyd to conduct an investigation into the health service and to make recommendations to him personally.

This investigation was limited to England because health is a devolved matter and the PM has no authority for health in Wales. This falls to the Welsh Government.

In spite of this, Ms Clwyd received hundreds of reports of worrying circumstances in hospitals in Wales. This is what she brought to the attention of the Welsh Government.

Their response was first, to say that no evidence had been provided (something she rejects); and then to block an invitation to attend an Assembly Committee at which time she would present evidence in person.

She also raised questions around mortality rates with figures suggesting that they are too high in six Welsh hospitals.

These include three of the hospitals that serve the Vale, the UHW, the Princess of Wales and the Royal Glamorgan.

Similarly, I regularly receive correspondence from local constituents over the performance of the health service; from long waits for treatment, to concerns of the transfer of geriatric services at Barry hospital to access to cancer drugs or delays in diagnostic services.

Only last week new figures for Barry and the rural Vale showed that urgent ambulance responses were missed again. Only 52.8 per cent of 'category A' calls arrived within 8 mins. The target is 75 per cent.

I was recently involved in an incident in Barry where a patient had to wait over an hour for an ambulance to arrive. Fortunately they were treated successfully at the scene but at one stage we were very worried about the patient's condition. Prompt arrival can be the difference between life and death. Thankfully in this case, it wasn't.

I have been extremely disappointed by the response of the Welsh Government who refuse to allow Ann Clwyd to undertake a similar inquiry here in Wales.

The only way to improve standards is to be open and transparent and willing to learn from mistakes. Sadly, it's difficult to imagine the First Minister asking an opposition politician to investigate the Welsh NHS, in the way the PM did.

It is important to emphasise the fact that the vast majority of patients receive an excellent service from the NHS. The dedication of staff is commendable. However, we owe it to staff and patient alike to take every possible opportunity to improve standards of care.

Wanted for Poppy and Clyde – a caring owner!

WE are appealing again for Poppy and Clyde, 10 and 12 year old crossbreeds, who are still with us.

They are a lovely pair of dogs, who were sadly left with us when their owner died. Having lived a jet-setting life, travelling around Europe, they are now looking to settle down in a loving home together.

They don't ask for much – some company, and just a little gentle exercise – an interesting, enclosed garden would be perfect for them!

Seniors Poppy and Clyde need you!

They are fine with children of around 8 plus, house trained and good at travelling.

In return, they are loving and loyal, gentle and affectionate, and will make the most rewarding companions, knowing that you have given a comfortable home back to two senior dogs.

If you can offer Poppy and Clyde a home, call us on 01656 725219 or pop in to Dogs Trust Bridgend, we are open 12 – 4pm every day except Monday, and starting on April 9, late night opening every Wednesday until 7.30pm.

Rugby star in plea for 'Bowel Awareness' month

I'M all too aware of the devastating impact that bowel cancer can have on people's lives; my mother successfully beat the disease, but sadly my grandfather lost his battle.

This April, during Bowel Cancer Awareness Month, I've signed up to Beating Bowel Cancer's Lift the Lid Day. On Wednesday, April 16, the charity is encouraging everyone to start up a conversation about bowel cancer. By lifting the lid on the condition, we can help beat the taboo surrounding it.

If caught early, over 90 per cent of cases can be treated successfully. That's why it's so important to spread the word about symptoms. Whether it's a chat over coffee with your family, putting up a poster at work, or encouraging an older relative to take up their screening invitation, every conversation you have could be lifesaving.

So help me 'Lift the Lid' on bowel cancer and let's beat bowel cancer together:

Company is fined £20,000 after workers suffer burns

TWO workers suffered burns, one seriously, when hot material from an industrial drier hit them as they tried to tackle a fire at a factory in south Wales, a court heard.

The employees of Maxibrite, in Llantrisant, were trying to fight fire at the Maxibrite coal briquette plant on December 16, 2012 when they were hurt, one suffering severe burns to his back, legs and hands.

The incident was investigated by the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) which prosecuted Maxibrite at Pontypridd Magistrates' Court on March 28.

The court heard works manager Simon Gilbody and works engineer Andrew Price were alerted by staff who saw smoke coming from the top of a tower used to produce solid fuel.

After several attempts to control the fire by hosing the tower failed, Mr Gilbody decided an inspection hatch at the bottom of the tower should be opened to let out any dust that might be causing an obstruction.

A company employee, Carl Lewis, opened the hatch but hot cinders cascaded out, burning Mr Gilbody on the chest, neck and face but without causing serious injury. As Mr Lewis tried to close the hatch, he was himself engulfed by hot coals. After showering for 30 minutes he was taken to hospital and received skin grafts for severe burns.

HSE's investigation found Maxibrite had not carried out a suitable risk assessment for the safe working of the rotary drier and failed to provide a safe way of working including adequate information, instruction and training for workers using the equipment, and in procedures to follow in the event of a fire.

Maxibrite Ltd, of Esh Winning, Durham, was fined a total of £20,000 and ordered to pay £5,115 in costs after pleading guilty to a breach of the Health and Safety at Work etc Act 1974 and a single breach of the Management of Health and Safety at Work Regulations.

HSE Inspector Steve Lewis, said after the hearing: "Mr Lewis and Mr Gilbody could have suffered far worse injuries or even death in this incident, which could have been prevented.

"The drying process at the plant involved intensive heat so the risks of fire should have been obvious. There had been a fire at the plant previously involving a similar drying process.

"Employers must make sure they have proper plans for dealing with emergency situations and that workers are trained to know what to do when something like a fire breaks out."

Local singer Jodie in Cowbridge concert date

PENARTH teenager, Jodi Bird gets the opportunity to perform alongside singer/ entertainer/ comedian, Mike Doyle and the award winning Bridgend Male Choir at Cowbridge Leisure Centre on Friday, April 4.

Jodie Bird will perform this Friday

Jodi has twice appeared with the choir already. Firstly at its 2013 annual concert and then at a charity fund-raising event for Prostate Cymru.

Jodi first came to the notice of the Bridgend choristers when she performed at the Treorchy Eisteddfod winning the intermediate Best Singer prize and being acclaimed by BMC's musical director, Rhiannon Williams-Hale as "the best which I have heard at her young age".

Jodi will sing several popular items from her repertoire at the joint concert.

Tickets £15 (£12 concessions) are available from W G Davies, Newsagents, 38 High Street, Cowbridge, and The News Shop, 11 Dunraven Place, Bridgend.

Ticket returns at the Cowbridge Leisure Centre from 6.30pm until show commencement at 7.30pm.

CARDIFF CROWN COURT ROUND-UP by AJ SICLUNA

Barry woman on 'drugs cocktail' drove a car at pedestrian COURT HEARS

AFTER taking a cocktail of drugs, a woman drove her car directly at a pedestrian, injuring his hip, Cardiff Crown Court has heard.

Alison Smith (39) of Laleston Close, Barry, admitted dangerous driving, possessing a knife and driving under the influence of drugs.

Prosecutor John Warren said that it was about 5pm on July 3 when police were called to an incident in Barry Road involving people arguing in the street.

They spoke to Bernard Stringer, who directed them to a nearby VW Golf and he told them Smith was driving and had tried to run him over.

He said she drove at speed directly at him and struck his right hip.

The police spoke to Smith, who was mumbling and gurning, and she was arrested.

She told officers: "I've not taken anything." Inside the vehicle was a black-handled kitchen knife, and Smith denied knowing it was there.

She was arrested and a blood test revealed she'd taken diazepam and amphetamine, and she failed balance and co-ordination tests.

A witness later said that he'd heard Smith caused "massive wheel spin" and saw Mr Stringer fall onto the bonnet.

The court was told that she initially denied dangerous driving.

She denied intending to cause Mr Stringer any injury and said she didn't believe she was under the influence of drugs.

Smith was said to have convictions for 32 offences, including assaulting the police, threatening behaviour, theft, causing actual bodily harm, causing damage, driving while disqualified, driving without due care and attention and failing to report an accident.

Her solicitor, Andrew Shanahan, said: "She has recently engaged well with the probation service, and is making good progress. She is clearly vulnerable."

Sentence was adjourned and she was remanded on bail.

Men attacked an innocent bystander

TWO young men have been put behind bars for attacking an innocent bystander in Barry.

Recorder Peter Griffiths said what Daniel Winmill and Shae Mialkowski had done was "appalling".

Winmill, 19, of Holton Road, Barry, and his co-defendant, 18, of Coleridge Road, Barry, admitted causing Robert Bisacre actual bodily harm and each was sent to a young offender institution for 16 months.

Said the Recorder: "You set about an innocent man and beat him up. Fortunately the injuries were not as bad as they might have been".

Prosecutor Jonathan Bushell said that at about 12am on December 22, Mr Bisacre, who is from Bristol, went to a fast food restaurant in Holton Road with his girlfriend. Neither was in any way drunk.

The defendants were arguing with a man, shouting and swearing, and Mr Bisacre asked them to calm down.

Suddenly, without warning, he received a blow to the back of the head from Winmill.

Mialkowski said: "I'm going to * knock you out" and delivered a karate kick to his head.

"Mr Bisacre was in incredible pain and felt part of an ear come away," said Mr Bushell.

Winmill circled him, throwing punches, and he shortly after received more kicks and a stamp to the head.

"The pair of attackers walked off, laughing, and shaking hands, " said Mr Bushell.

The victim was treated at the University Hospital of Wales.

When arrested, Winmill said Mr Bisacre had been the aggressor and Mialkowski claimed he was attacked from behind.

Hash Salman, for Winmill, said he was remorseful and Adam Sharp, for Mialkowski said: "He has been realistic about the sentence he will receive and appreciates his actions were abhorrent."

Each defendant was ordered to pay £100 victim surcharge.

Life saving skills in Llanmaes

CPR and defibrillator training will take place on Monday, April 14 at St Cattwg's Village Hall, Llanmaes, Vale of Glamorgan.

The session starts at 7pm til 9pm, and is free. Children 10 years and above are also welcome to attend with their parents.

The charity Welsh Hearts, in partnership with The Welsh Ambulance Service, aims to equip people with emergency vital life saving skills and the knowledge and actions that could save a life.

Training will be given in CPR (Cardiopulmonary Resuitation), a first aid technique that is a combination of rescue breaths and chest compressions, and on how to use a defibrillator.

To book a place or find out where further classes are held, contact Welsh Hearts on 02920 786521 or email fundraising@welshhearts.org.

LEIGH OPENS CHARITY'S HYDROTHERAPY POOL

Making a splash in the new poool.

IT was smiles all round when Tŷ Hafan ambassador Leigh Halfpenny officially opened the charity's new state-of-the art hydrotherapy pool.

The facility provides life-limited children, young people and their families with a fantastic environment for therapy, communication, socialisation and play. It is fully equipped with disco and sensory lights as well as speakers for music, and also includes hoists to help children enter and exit the pool.

The rugby star was thrilled to cut the ribbon in front of families and staff members who couldn't wait to use the facility.

Jayne Saunders, director of care at Tŷ Hafan, said: "We are delighted that Leigh took the time to officially open our new hydrotherapy pool and it was wonderful for our supporters to see how their donations have made such a difference to the families we support."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Branch Manager Phil Powell feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Vale, Bridgend, RCT and Porthcawl areas and Phil is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Phil a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

The Winter Soldier entertains... BUT LACKS MARVEL-LOUS PUNCH!

by GARETH JAMIESON
Follow Screen Talk on Twitter – @GEMScreenTalk

THERE are very few certainties in this world, but Marvel Studios' dominance of the superhero genre is one of them.

With a seeming licence to print money, and with more characters set to make their filmic debuts, including the Guardians of Galaxy and Ant-Man, their success shows no signs of abating.

Next up for the studio is a sequel to Captain America, subtitled The Winter Soldier. Picking up where the events of The Avengers left off, it sees the Captain (Chris Evans) working for S.H.I.E.L.D. alongside Black Widow (Scarlett Johansson); but when a face from the Captain's past comes seeking vengeance, and with the shadowy Alexander Pierce (Robert Redford) keeping his eye on S.H.I.E.L.D.'s activities, the Captain and his S.H.I.E.L.D. teammates are put under deadly pressure...

If Marvel Studios have a weakness it appears to be their sequels; Iron Man 2 was something of a damp squib (resolved by the one-two punch of The Avengers and Iron Man 3), while Thor's second outing lacked the wonder and spark of the first film.

Captain America: The Winter Soldier bucks the trend by creating a film that improves upon its progenitor, but even then it never really soars as you hope it would, the end product entertaining and enjoyable but just lacking that final punch to really wow.

It's arguably the most mature Marvel film to date, superheroes magnified through the prism of a 1970s conspiracy movie, something that may travel a little over the head of the younger members of the audience, although they are compensated by the action set-pieces; the film's opening sequence, set on a S.H.I.E.L.D. boat hijacked by terrorists, sets the level of seriousness and indicates that however fantastical the universe, this is a story grounded in the real world.

The themes explored by the script are ones that are prevalent in the audience's lives – the threat of terror, the actions of those put in place to safeguard the public, and the notion of where the line is drawn and when it's okay to cross it.

It's heavy stuff for what is ostensibly a film about costumed heroes, but it works incredibly well, the film nailing the balance of action and exposition well, and mixing style and substance. It's a shame that once the story reaches tipping point it descends into type – the twists that could have gone anywhere tend to match expectation, and the rich depth of the story gives way to a somewhat predictable climax.

It is this that is most disappointing, particularly when the opening two acts make anything seem possible, only for your expectations to be simply met come the end; this isn't a gigantic bugbear, more one that puts something of a dampener on the film overall.

The Russo brothers show a wonderful touch in their first action outing, having predominantly helmed comedies; there is a touch of nerves in some of the set-pieces, the editing and camerawork moving a little too quickly, but they mine the conspiracy feel of the story for a visually strong piece of work that is impressive.

Performance-wise, you get what you expect; Chris Evans shows a warmth, humour and stoicism as Captain America, the 'man-out-of-time' characterisation making way for a man whose agreement with the actions of his superiors is cloudy at best, while newcomer to the franchise Antony Mackie makes a decent fist of the character of Sam Wilson, someone who becomes a valuable ally to the Cap, and Sebastian Stan offers a pleasing turn and some depth as the titular soldier.

Samuel L Jackson enjoys a meatier role as Nick Fury, and Robert Redford shows his class as Alexander Pierce, but Scarlett Johansson, despite being given more depth than she's had previously in terms of her character, turns in an imbalanced performance; physically impressive, she never seems to really grasp the character's weight in an unusually middling turn for the (usually very good) actress.

While there is plenty to enjoy here, the overriding feeling of Captain America: The Winter Soldier is of a satisfying film that was capable of more but didn't quite get there. With box office glory assured, you would hope for a more daring effort; that it goes part of the way to doing this, only to pull the rug at the end, makes it merely good rather than great.

VERDICT – Another success story for Marvel Studios, albeit one that had the potential to be even better than it is, Captain America: The Winter Soldier won't disappoint but feels like something of a missed opportunity. Well made and creating an interesting new landscape for further adventures of the Marvel heroes, it will undoubtedly entertain – but will probably leave you wanting more. Enjoyable.

SEE THIS IF YOU LIKED: The Avengers (2012), All The Presidents Men (1976).

National Pet Month 2014

1st April to 5th May

Care 4 Pets - where there is a wide range of services

WHETHER you need your dog walked, or boarded in a family home, your cat visited, someone to live in your home to care for your pets, your dog groomed or pet supplies, then Park Crescent in Barry is the place to go.

Care 4 Pets offers a range of services to help with pet care, whether you are going on holiday or simply need your dog walked or your cat fed.

In addition, Sleek & Chic Grooming Parlour offers a full grooming service for your dog. With a team of experienced groomers, your dog is in good hands and, if you want your dog to look a little different, we can add a few touches by way of beads, feathers or vegetable based colour to add a finishing touch.

Finally, pop next door to the salon to My Favourite Pet Shop for your pet supplies.

This new pet shop offers a range of food from Nature's Diet, a raw food, Burns, Royal Canin, James Wellbeloved, Lily's Kitchen, Fish4dogs and other specialist foods not available in supermarkets.

You will also find toys for all types of pets, small animal food, bird supplies and wild bird food and feeders.

Whether you want doggie bling or a good quality collar and lead you will find it here, and if you can't they are more than happy to order any product for you with quick delivery.

Call just one number 01446 744633 for further information and like each business on Facebook for updates and offers. Why go anywhere else?

Thanking everyone for their continued support

Are you an animal lover?

MAWS is a small local charity that helps and rehomes hundreds of unwanted pets each year.

The society is run entirely by volunteers. Although we are based in Maesteg, we work throughout south Wales to find good homes for cats, kittens, dogs and puppies.

We also help people on low income with vet's bills and neutering their pets.

Each year, we need to raise at least £50,000 to continue our work. We do this through donations, and through our charity shops based in Maesteg and Nantymoel.

We also organise fundraising events.

How can you help? We need people to help in many different ways: Perhaps you could help out in our charity shops, by supplying good quality clothing and bric-a-brac?

Could you serve in our shops if you have an hour or two to spare? Or help us run fundraising events?

If that is not possible, you might like to make a donation to help us with our work.

Become a member of our society for a minimum fee of just £2 per person.

Cementing the bond between pet and owner

EVERY now and then dogs and their owners' need a little help with communication, respect and even first aid, and that is where the Blue Ridge Canine Academy comes in.

The Academy, based at Rhoose Point, Vale of Glamorgan, helps owners and their dogs with socialisation and obedience training for young and adult dogs, as well as behaviour modification – from excessive barking through to aggression problems, and so much more – to help make both human and canine cement their bond and live harmoniously and happily together.

The Academy achieves this through classes and workshops, where through positive reinforcement, owners are assisted in maintaining their position within their newly-formed pack, and are able to both understand and communicate with their dogs.

Now, the Academy will be offering canine first aid, taught by accredited pet first aider, Stuart Kemp, for all people working with dogs in any professional capacity, as well as private owners.

The intensive course prepares owners to take quick and confident action in an emergency, and focuses on the most common dog-related accidents.

"All of the knowledge that you will learn on this course can be applied to any animal, no matter what the size, and can make a massive difference to keeping them safe."

The classes are due to start imminently, as the venue is arranged.

Toni added: "We know most people will want to do this course on weekends, as it is for a whole day, so we are looking to make sure we can offer this to people. We urge people to keep an eye on our website or on social media for updates on when these courses will begin."

For updates on courses, contact the Bridge Ridge Canine Academy on 01446 719 898 or 07715 008 454, or email info@blueridgeacademy.co.uk.

Vale illustrator's first children's book is attracting attention!

A LOCAL illustrator is enjoying great success with her first children's book – which was inspired by growing up in the Vale countryside!

Emma Levey grew up in the Vale, surrounded by animals at the Little Mill Cattery, Llanvithyn Mill, Llancarfan, and she drew on this experience when she planned her book, entitled Hattie Peck.

The talented illustrator put together a storyline around the adventures, trials and tribulations of a chicken – the aforementioned Hattie.

Hattie sets off in search of lost or abandoned eggs, and Emma's illustrations really bring the story to life.

She had an added bonus when the BBC singled it out and gave a favourable review, and Emma told The GEM that the book is currently the best-selling children's book in Harrods.

Hattie Peck is available from Amazon and from all good book shops.

'I WILL WALK YOUR DOG'

A service for man's (and woman's) best friend!

'I WILL walk your dog' is a real success story. Started nine years ago by animal lover Ian Gibbons, pet care has taken on a whole new dimension.

When people work long hours or are unable to give their pets much-needed exercise, 'I will walk your dog' is the ideal solution.

Ian will call and collect your pet in a fully-equipped van containing air conditioning, pet treats and luxury facilities, and give them their exercise.

Ian has experience in animal psychology and pet care and has previous experience of working in kennels.

The service is available anywhere in the Vale of Glamorgan, with customers in Cowbridge, Llantwit Major, Barry, Ogmore, Bridgend, Cardiff and further afield. Ian also offers pet-sitting for cats.

Vale planning

Mrs Lucy Payne – Elaine Jones Interiors, 4 Wine Street, Llantwit Major – The building is currently being used as an office/shop. I propose to change this to a coffee shop, with a view to selling hot and cold food for consumption both on and off the premises; opening times would be 8am-5pm Monday to Friday and 8am-2pm on Saturday (closed on Sunday).

Mr Francis Kennett – Ty Frandy, Curnix Farm, Moulton – To create a driveway entrance to main property; currently the only access to the property is via a shared gravel driveway, which is unsuitable for proper access. The new driveway will entail removing approximately 6m of hedgerow and excavation of soil to form driveway.

Mrs Michelle Proctor – 11 King Street, Penarth – Two and single storey rear extension.

Mr and Mrs Nadeem Amin – 8 Glas y Llwyn, Barry – Extension at first floor level to form a new bedroom and alter existing first floor layout, incorporating new windows.

Mr Wayne Davies – The Grange, Llancarfan – Lawful development certificate for proposed garage conversion.

Mrs Amy Owen – Trosfaen, Windmill Lane, Llanblethian – Front and rear attic extensions.

Mr David Jenkins – 3 Plymouth Road, Penarth – Conversion of existing (dilapidated) detached garage into habitable space including link to existing house, plus associated works.

Live a life of adventure

BY MARIA LEIJERSTAM

DOUBLE world record holder Maria Leijerstam from the Vale, founder of the Burn Series of multisport events and qualified personal trainer, will inspire you with a weekly column on simple family sporting adventures in the beautiful countryside of south Wales.

Maria will guide you on how and where in your area you can combine sport and fitness into family fun.

Adventure in Patagonia.

What perfect timing; the clocks went forward and out came the sun!

I for one am certainly in need of some defrosting after spending a month in Antarctica this winter at minus 40 degrees.

To get you started this week I thought I'd take you to a favourite place of mine where I spent many weekends last summer. On this challenge, two or three brains are better than one, so when you have a free hour, grab a few members of your family or friends and head down to Cosmeston Lakes Country Park in Penarth (open daily from 8.30am-6.30pm).

Go to reception and ask for an orienteering map. It costs £2.20 to hire a map for the day. There is a choice of course lengths from 2km – 4km so now all you need to do is find the check points.

A compass is not vital but you may wish to use one to ensure your map is pointing North. Remember, being lost is part of the adventure! Always look out for obvious landmarks; the big blue patch on the map is water, which is the most obvious of them all.

It's a good idea to discuss route options with your team, as there is usually more than one way. In competitive orienteering, the fastest team to complete the whole course is the winner so you might want to set yourself a target time to complete the course.

When you've achieved your challenge, take some time to enjoy the view and keep an eye out for the beautiful swans.

Set yourself the challenge and let us know how you got on, log onto www.burnseries.co.uk/youradventure for more details.

This picture above was taken in Patagonia in 2013 during a 10-day adventure race where we had to rely heavily on our navigation to get us through this almost impassible terrain. We also had to work closely as a team to maintain morale after the 100th kilometre!

Make sure you join me next week for more adventures.

Choral society's joint concert

LAST Saturday, March 29, Cowbridge Choral Society joined Pontypridd Choral Society for their spring concert in the Temple Baptist Church, Gelliwastad Road, Pontypridd.

The programme, which consisted of two works, the Messa di Gloria by Puccini and the Messe Solonnelle by Gounod, was conducted by Jeff Ryan.

The soloists were Iona Jones (soprano), Huw Rhys-Evans (tenor) and Adam Gilbert (baritone), with organ accompaniment by Jonathan Gulliford.

Puccini composed his Mass at the age of 18 and the first performance took place in 1880, although it was not performed again for some 70 years.

The Gounod Mass is near perfect in its lyrical beauty and is one of the great accomplishments in western music with the obvious joy and awe it portrays for divine mystery and promise.

An enthusiastic audience was very appreciative of the efforts of both choirs and soloists, and the conducting ability of Jeff Ryan.

Cowbridge Choral Society will now begin rehearsals for the next concert, which will be in October. More information about the Society is available at cowbridgechoralsociety.co.uk.

New members are always welcome, and experience is not essential. Rehearsals take place in the United Reform Church, Westgate Street every Thursday at 7.30pm. PG

JRC JEWELLERY

The Glamorgan GEM

JRC JEWELLERY OF COWBRIDGE were so pleased with the response from their initial front page advertising in The GEM, they now place an advert every week.

Jonathan Mahoney, proprietor, said: "Since opening the shop in Cowbridge, we have tried a few different mediums for advertising. The GEM has definitely shown itself to be the most effective in generating sales and footfall into the shop."

GEM columnist's book is reprinted

GEM columnist Brian Lee, who was brought up in the Cathays area of Cardiff, is delighted that The History Press has reprinted his book Cathays, Maindy, Mynachdy And Gabalfa – The Second Selection.

Brian said: "When I compiled the first Cathays, Maindy, Gabalfa and Mynachdy book, it sold 900 copies in the first two weeks and made it to the Western Mail's top 10 best-seller list for two weeks running which was amazing as on that list were books by such authors as Trollope, Cornwell and Ackroyd.'"

He added: "This second selection was first published in 2000 and it goes to show that there is still a market for these local history picture books.'"

The book costs £12.99 and is available from all good bookshops.

PETERSTON PUPILS' SURPRISE 'FLASH MOB' PERFORMANCE

PUPILS at Peterston-super-Ely C-I-W Primary School had a rehearsal with a difference when they performed a surprise' flash mob' on the playground.

Practicing for their performance in the Best Foot Forward at Barry Memorial Hall on March 19, they gave their school friends a surprise sneak preview of their dance moves.

The brain child of teacher Mr Camilleri, together with teaching assistants, Miss Hall and Mrs Pitcock, the children pretended they were going about their usual playtime activities when music began playing and they began dancing in their planned routine.

Mr Camilleri explained: "It was a bit of fun really, but it gave the children a taste of performing for an audience. The great reaction they had from all their friends meant their confidence was boosted going into the actual event."

Nothing sustainable about Colwinston housing development

I WOULD like to follow up on Paul Jeremy's letter in last week's GEM regarding the damaging planning applications being made for large scale housing development in various Vale rural villages.

Already Ystradowen has fallen to one such application that has received planning permission, and it looks like Colwinston is the next in line.

What is difficult to understand is how such sites passed the Sustainability Assessment Objectives in the first place to appear in the Draft LDP. Colwinston is a designated conservation village of some 155 dwellings, where Redrow propose to build 62 houses on a site known to have drainage and flooding problems.

The village has a primary school, pub, church and village hall. There are no shops or other services, all of which are located between 5-8 kilometres away in either Cowbridge or Bridgend.

Utility services are working to capacity. Indeed, the sewerage system is already failing and raw sewage can discharge into the local brook and onto the highway.

There is no scheduled bus service, no local employment and the additional 100 or so cars leaving the village along narrow lanes would travel against the school run traffic flow. Site access is immediately next to the school entrance with a sharp bend on the other side – an accident waiting to happen!

Yet against this background the LDP planners and, of course, the developer, deem the village to be a sustainable environment enough to cope with a 40 per cent increase in the size of the village, even given the physical constraints and lack of community infrastructure.

The proposed development clearly breaches many sections of Welsh planning policy that are there to protect minor rural settlements and does not comply with the Vale Council's own policies (particularly Policy MD 6) in relation to development within minor rural settlements.

It will also have an adverse effect on the conservation area.It should be noted that one of the main criticisms and concerns by the Welsh Government of the Draft LDP 2013 was the over-development of rural villages.

In respect of housing allocations, it said "the services and facilities in many minor rural villages themselves appear poor"; "Allocations in some minor rural settlements appear disproportionate to current services and facilities." and "the proposed spatial distribution could potentially encourage reliance on the car and compound infrastructure problems in rural locations".

If the planning application for Colwinston is approved, I can see little hope for St Nicholas, Bonvilston, Wick and other Vale villages.

Brian Kennard,
Colwinston.

Don't blame the Tories for cuts

IN his letters to The GEM over the last two weeks, Mr G Smith highlights the savage cuts to Welsh funding.

What a shame he forgot to mention why the cuts have been necessary.

And it's not just Wales that has had cuts to its funding, the rest of the country has also suffered similar cuts.

Yes, Wales has since 2010, a period of three years, lost £1.7 billion in funding, but it has also received over the same period £800 million in other funding, some of which was intended for the sole purpose of freezing council tax; £22 million was actually used by social services to pay the council tax of people on benefits, well, at least their council tax was frozen!

Perhaps if our councils actually collected the £85 million of unpaid council tax, we could have negated the increases.

In Westminster, the last Labour government was fortunate enough to inherit a healthy economy from the Conservatives. However, they sold our gold reserve, robbed our pension funds and then borrowed even more.

On top of that, they actively encouraged immigration, putting an immense strain on our schools, the NHS, etc. The end result of which is a national debt on a scale never seen before in this country.

In Wales, the Labour government has failed to pass several audits, it squanders £100s of millions of our taxes on failed/overpriced projects, eg the military academy at St Athan, the Red Dragon Hangar, Cardiff Airport/the airport bus service, etc.

In south Wales, the Labour government is also spending tens of millions on building under-used Welsh speaking schools at the expense of English speaking schools.

So, Mr Smith, in the real world, people know who to blame for the savage cuts – it's Labour, not the Conservatives.

Gordon Wilkie
LM Conservative

The Vale needs more imaginative local planning

THE article by Phillip Irwin entitled 'Could Llandow Newydd still find favour with Council planners?' is very much to the point, but the answer will certainly be 'No' as our council has little truck with creative planning.

The general rule is that "more of the same" is their most adventurous principle.

The written statement of the LDP accurately describes the character of the Vale as comprising a small number of larger towns: Penarth, Llantwit Major, Dinas Powys and Cowbridge (containing 76 per cent of the total population) plus a large number of small villages and hamlets containing the rest.

The towns, of course, are important and contain significant pressures that must be addressed. But the defining character of the Vale is in its villages.

The great majority of proposed development is to "reinforce the role and function of the key settlement of Barry, the service centres, primary settlements and minor rural settlements."

Development is proposed adjacent to existing housing in the very places most likely to provoke opposition and rage among established citizens.

If they bothered to look at their own analysis, it might have occurred to them that another strategy would be to increase the number of villages.

Llandow is an obvious example but there are many other possible locations in the rural Vale, including some near to motorway junctions and railway lines.

An entirely new settlement offers the opportunity to create a community, not just a housing estate. Pressure can be taken off existing services, a more sustainable form of development may accrue and a coherent approach to design is possible, learning from the model of our well-loved existing villages.

A critical mass can bring effective affordable housing in tandem with a housing association.

A challenge should be issued for the most creative scheme with a feasible business plan. If you think about it, it could be "more of the same" but without the acrimony. It is not a utopian dream.

Jim Grove (retired architect/planner), Cowbridge.

Wind turbine too big – and it's in the wrong place

THE recent planning application on behalf of Mr Andrew RT Davies, AM, for the installation of a 500 KVA wind turbine, substation and access road on his land at Garn Farm on the south side of the A48 gives me much cause for concern.

The proposed wind-powered turbine will have a blade height of 99.5m (approximately half the height of the St Hilary mast) and be visible over a radius of 30 km.

It would be located on prime agricultural land presenting an obtrusive structure despoiling the magnificent views to the coast across this area of the Vale landscape.

Its location would also have the potential to set a precedent for further development within this and the surrounding areas.

I am fully recognisant of the need for green energy, current government policy in these matters and the need for alternative sources of electrical supply.

As a professional engineer, I am also knowledgeable on the pros and cons of electrical generation by wind power and the advantageous influences of the enormous subsidies and generous feed in tariffs available.

Such considerations and discussions do not, however, influence my concerns and opinions expressed in this letter.

It is the location and its impact on the local environment which has been vigorously protected over the years and would now, in my opinion, be ruined and despoiled should planning consent be granted.

I hope that by your publishing this letter, attention may be drawn to those readers who are not aware of this application – and those who may have an interest in preserving the beauty, character and scenery of the rural Vale would write to the Vale planners and their local MP, to express their concerns and raise objections to the proposed location.

DH Daniels, St Hilary.

No to St Hilary wind turbine

WITH reference to the article by Philip Irwin (The Cowbridge GEM) March 27 regarding the possible erection of a new wind turbine, I, as a local resident in close proximity to the proposed development, concur with most of the comments made.

However, it must be considered that farmers are being urged to diversify and that green energy is desirable. I trust, however, that the application currently submitted to the local planning authority for 'planning permission to erect a single renewable energy wind turbine' will be rejected on the grounds that good agricultural land in this part of the Vale is not a suitable location for this type of development and that a precedent for further development for more wind turbines on agricultural land is not to be encouraged.

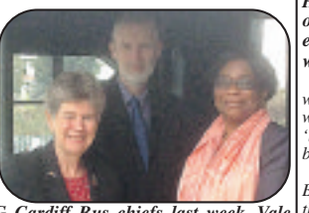
Vale AM meets Cardiff Bus chiefs



Jane Hutt, Cynthia Ogbonna and Peter Heath from Cardiff Bus

MEETING Cardiff Bus chiefs last week, Vale AM Jane Hutt made clear her view that Cardiff Bus services are vital to Barry and the wider area.

Welcoming the decision to safeguard the 98 service in Barry, she said it was very important that Cardiff Bus served the Vale to attract and keep their bus passengers.

She said: "We have successfully campaigned to keep essential Cardiff Bus services in Barry and it is vital that Cardiff Bus attracts and keeps bus passengers in the Vale which they serve. That was my message when I met Cardiff Bus chiefs for a positive and constructive meeting."

Improving pictures

NEWS FROM THE PENARTH COMPUTER CLUB

WE all make an effort to improve our digital photographs with a varying amount of success.

Guy has been doing it for years and came to show us some ways to go from so-so to superb. It requires a capable photo-editing programme, a degree of experience and a certain amount of painstaking patience to get there.

Guy spends a lot of time making his improvements and uses an expensive programme, but you can start quietly and see how you go.

Some programmes are completely free – and quite useful for making many considerable straightforward improvements.

Then, if you develop a taste for it, you can always invest in better programmes and equipment later. The degree of dedication and the amount of patience and time devoted to it is up to you. It can pay big dividends.

The basic material to work with comes from your camera or scanner. Naturally, the better they are the better the end result from the (more) information captured.

Cameras catch the information for you in RAW mode. It usually processes this to reduce the file size into JPG or TIFF formats and in the process some information is discarded.

Serious photographers prefer to work with the entire RAW data for better control, but that will come only if you get really involved.

Meantime, get used to taking lots of shots, even of the same subject, as some will prove to be better than the others. Choose the ones you want to keep (and make copies for backup, of course).

For editing, work only on copies. That way if anything goes wrong you can start again with a fresh copy.

After selecting one from a series on the same subject, Guy started by introducing us to layers. These are like see-through sheets of cellophane. Working only on these allows you to leave the background picture unchanged.

At any time you can view the state of progress towards the end product by looking at the picture though the layers. This is known as non-destructive editing and is recommended.

As Guy talked us through what he was doing, layers were used to eliminate flaws; crop the picture; edit out distracting features and change the intensity of colours.

Judicious use of framing, coupled with 'feathering' (where sharp changes are graduated between areas) allowed him to produce a pleasing vignette effect typical of old family photographs.

He then used similar techniques to enhance a picture of foliage. For a picture of a young lady he exchanged a messy, complicated background for a more attractive one.

Just for fun, he created a compilation of some surreal effects within a view of an internal corridor or colonnade.

Finally, he recreated a beautiful view of a road alongside a canal by incorporating major features from several sources, introducing colour and an interesting sky.

Our next meeting is on Tuesday April 8 at All Saints Lesser Hall, Victoria Square, Penarth, 7.30pm for 8pm. Visitors always welcome. See penarthcomputerclub.co.uk.

Choir performs Handel's classic

WHEN St Donats Atlantic Chorale perform Handel's Messiah on Saturday, April 12, not only will they be celebrating five years of entertaining audiences in the Vale but also, they will be setting a 272-year-old record straight.

When Messiah (probably the most popular choral work ever written) was due to premiere in 1742 – it was billed to be performed on April 12. However 'local people of distinction' requested it be deferred by a day.

A warm welcome awaits all who might flock to Bradenstoke Hall to join the choir's celebrations as they perform this famous and popular oratorio for the first time.

Conducted by Carl Grainger and accompanied by Opus 8 Ensemble and celebrated guest soloists, the choir will perform Messiah at 7.30pm on Saturday April 12. Tickets are available from St Donats Arts Centre box office on 01446 799100 and online via www.stdonats.com.

The choir would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has supported us over the past five years and attended our concerts. If interested in joining the choir or supporting our performances, contact Gwenda Williams on 07774 215 062 for more information.

Local drama students receive their awards

The infants and juniors.

The senior section.

Seren Morris receives the infants award.

Bethany Barrell with the senior award.

IT has been an exciting nine months for Stage Door 1 Youth Theatre with three successful performances under their belt, Mulan, Les Miserables and Beauty and the Beast.

However, there is no time for students to stand still as they are already working hard on two new productions for the coming year.

The infant and junior students are putting on a production of The Little Mermaid in May and the senior students are tackling Jesus Christ Superstar in October.

Last Saturday, March 29, an awards ceremony was held in the Llantonian Hall, Llantwit Major. Award winners included: Seren Morris (infants); Heidi Charlton (juniors) and Bethany Barrell (seniors).

Finally, Aaron Ashley Perks was awarded the Eve Darby Memorial Award in recognition of exceptional achievement and contribution to the philosophy of the group.

Mike Peters, director at Stage Door 1, also presented awards to his production team, Alison, Helen and Sebastian for the qualities that they bring to the team.

For further information, contact Mike on 07944 607003 or mike@stagedoor1.co.uk.

CADETS' VISIT TO THE FLEET AIR ARM MUSEUM

RECENTLY, Air Cadets from 372 (Barry) Squadron, travelled to the Royal Naval Air Station at Yeovilton to see the amazing Fleet Air Arm Museum.

The museum contains Europe's largest collection of naval aviation aircraft and represents the flying arm of the Royal Navy.

The exhibition spanned four large halls and included aircraft from early bi-planes through to the more formidable modern era. The museum also allowed the cadets to learn more about the theory of flight and propulsions.

The cadets looked around the first British-built Concorde and the Fairey Delta 2, which was the first aircraft to fly at more than 1,000mph.

The cadets also learnt about the 1982 Falklands exhibition and saw actual aircraft that operated during the campaign including the Sea Harrier, Sea King, Wessex and Augusta helicopters.

The highlight of the visit included the 'Aircraft Carrier Experience'.

Cadet Keiren Bushell said: "It was a great museum with so much to see and do during our day there. I spent all my pocket money on model aircraft to build at home."

The Cadets who attended were: Kieren and Dominic Bushell, Thomas Browning, Steph Jones, Georgina and Zena Poulakis, Pippa Cowles, Gethin Lodge, Ross Clarke, Alex Cheeseley, Rhys Williams, Rhys Lewis, Nathan Thompson, Alex Spragg and Jordan Saunders.

If you have a spirit for adventure, 372 (Barry) Squadron have vacancies for boys and girls between 13-18 years old. The Squadron parade on Mondays and Wednesdays 7pm-9.30pm behind Adams Funeral Parlour (by the Memorial Hall) or you can phone the Squadron on 01446 747734, email 372@aircadets.org or visit www.372squadron.org.

HOW CARDIFF CHARITY SAVES LIVES OF MOTHERS IN AFRICA

AT the March meeting of Llanmaes WI, the speaker was Angela Gorman, the founder of the charity 'Life for African Mothers'.

Angela is a truly amazing and inspirational woman who in 2006, after watching a television programme on the lifetime risk of death in pregnancy of one in seven African women, decided that something must be done. She co-founded the charity and works tirelessly in an increasing number of African countries to make a difference to pregnant women.

The results have been astounding and the members were told that, because of the work of the charity, in some fatal complications a woman's life could be saved for less than the price of a first class postage stamp.

To encourage women to attend the clinics, the charity, based in Cardiff, collects and distributes baby clothes. Details can be found on their website www.lifeforafricanmothers.org.

Jan Waskett presented some baby clothes to Angela Gorman at the meeting. Llanmaes WI meets on the second Tuesday of the month at Llanmaes Village Hall at 7.30pm, where all new members are welcome.

FROM YOUNG MUSICAL TALENT TO DEDICATED LOCAL VOLUNTEERS...

COWBRIDGE MAYOR'S DIARY

by Coun Gwen Baty

AS I near the end of my mayoral year I still have enjoyable experiences to share with you.

The first was on Monday, March 24, when my consort and I went to St David's Hall to a concert given by children from the primary schools of Cardiff and the Vale.

The programme was varied, showing the many talents the children have. The first item was a beginners' percussion group. They played as if they had been together for a very long time, certainly not like beginners!

Next came the junior schools' harp ensemble. The harps, although half size, were bigger than most of the artists! It was good to recognise children from Ysgol Iolo Morgannwg playing. I am so glad to see so many young girls and boys learning to play our national instrument.

A primary music development project came next, a great fun item with lots of budding ukelele players, followed by the junior schools' choir. They treated us to music from Neverland and from The Lion King.

An interval followed and then we had the foundation brass band. They played The Grand March from Aida with a cornet soloist and euphonium solo, 'O Sole Mio' from an artist too small to carry the instrument! After two more marches, the brass band handed over to the whole junior schools' orchestra.

We had six items from this orchestra, starting with a rousing 'Men of Harlech' and ending with 'One Day Like This'. We were treated to three soloists, two on violin and one on cello.

The young first violin leader of the orchestra played with such skill and confidence it was difficult to believe that this was her last year in primary school, and she will be entering secondary education next year.

The evening ended with the orchestra, choir and foundation brass band performing together 'World in Union' and the sound of our national anthem being played and sung by them, and the whole audience, was a wonderful experience. It was really hard to believe that these youngsters were still all at primary school.

The following night was the turn of junior and senior music groups to perform for The Lord Mayor's Charity Showcase. We had high schools' brass band, intermediate age percussion, senior guitar ensemble, the primary schools' cluster choir and the transitional wind band to entertain us and that was only in the first half!

After the interval, the youth wind band, the youth choir and the transitional orchestra all performed. Then, all joined together to finish with a rousing performance of Lionel Bart's 'Oom Pah Pah'.

The wonderful music I heard over these two nights was only possible because of the dedication of the music staff in the Cardiff And The Vale of Glamorgan Music Service. They give their time and expertise to develop the skills of the children.

Over a thousand children are having musical experience under their tuition, not only in schools but in rehearsals in the Friary in Cardiff on evenings and weekends, so we owe them a great deal of thanks for keeping a truly great music service alive.

On Thursday night we attended the AGM of the Bridgend Samaritans. This is the group that looks after our area. This branch is incredibly busy, though I am informed that almost all branches have the same workload. In 2013, Bridgend branch had nearly 21,000 contacts, 9,481 by phone, 808 by text and 662 by e-mail.

The main reasons were feeling alone, feeling worthless, sad or angry all the time, being abused, feeling suicidal, job stresses and relationship issues.

There is an outreach team that visits colleges and schools to do workshops, visits Parc prison, goes to Princess of Wales hospital; and volunteers are there for 'Feet on the Street' in Bridgend town centre every Saturday night.

All this unpaid work is done by a dedicated band of volunteers who have had to undergo weeks of intense training sessions. There are 200 volunteers for every paid member of staff in Samaritans.

In addition to all this valuable community work, they are also busy fundraising to keep the system going.

I was so impressed by this organisation. If you were to think of becoming a volunteer this is their advert;

- £000 per annum.
- No promotion prospects.
- No company car.
- No expense account.
- No glamour.
- No luncheon vouchers.
- Sometimes not even a thank you.

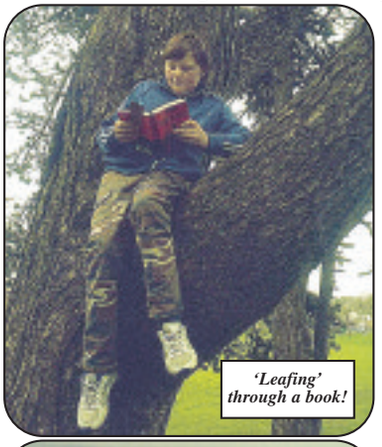
World Book Day marked with a readathon at Barry Comprehensive



'Leafing' through a book!

Mrs Jones riding a lion!

Winner Mrs Hill chooses a spectacular location to catch up with her reading.

AS part of our World Book Day celebrations the English department launched its annual extreme reading competition.

The entries were numerous and varied as usual – but the winners were announced as Ben Thomas and Ethan Williams for the pupils, and Mrs Marie Hill for the staff.

We were thrilled to announce that over £380 had been raised by the year-7 classes who all took part in a readathon as part of their independent learning last term.

Each year-7 pupil was challenged to read six books in six weeks.

Not only did the majority complete this challenge but many actually exceeded it.

The money raised goes to a variety of charities for children including the Teenage Cancer Trust. At the recent year-7 parents' evening many of the mums, dads and carers commented on how the event had re-enthused their sons about reading.

Maendy young farmers brought some colour to Llandudno recently!

MAENDY YOUNG FARMERS ARE THE ENTERTAINERS!

MAENDY young farmers will feature on an S4C programme this Saturday.

The Wales Young Farmers' Club's Entertainment Feast is one of the biggest events in the club's calendar. Held every three years, it's a colourful competition with plenty of humour and enthusiasm.

Ifan Jones Evans presented this year's event on stage at Llandudno's Venue Cymru and he will introduce highlights, Adloniant y Ffermwyr Ifanc, on S4C Saturday, April 5 at 7.30pm (English subtitles available).

He said: "The weekend is certainly a feast of entertainment. Backstage, it's a hive of activity with people preparing their OTT costumes and make-up and I found out what inspired the shows and characters, as well as enjoying a lot of banter!"

ON Saturday, March 29, the Vale Ploughing and Hedging Society held a competition on the picturesque coast at Ogmore-by-Sea.

As you can see from Glyn Evans' pictorial record of the day there is a touch of artistry to producing a neatly furrowed field!

Tractors of all shapes and sizes took part.

Llantwit meeting on planning sites

THE public consultation on candidate sites put forward by land owners and developers is now taking place and an event is being held in Llantwit Major.

The consultation is being held at the Llantonian Hall on Monday, April 7 from 2pm until 6pm.

Coun Gwyn John told The GEM: "I would urge local residents to go along and see the proposals which will be considered by the Vale Council shortly.

"There are a number of additional sites put forward for development, so residents need to have their say or possibly suffer the consequences."

In Business Update

Newbold Solicitors WE ARE HERE TO HELP YOU

It can be daunting running your own business and competing against other local companies; it is important to have something that sets you apart.

However, we at Newbold Solicitors believe that if you work hard and provide the highest quality advice and at a price that people are able to afford, you can be a success story.

Newbolds Solicitors opened its doors four years ago, initially named Brendon's Solicitors and employing only two staff, but the acquisition of Newbold and Co solicitors in Cwmbran brought not only a new name, but two more offices full of dedicated staff.

Since then we have gone from strength to strength, expanding further into west Wales in late 2013 with the opening of a new office in Neath bringing us to four offices and over 30 staff.

From our four offices we can now cover the whole of south Wales from Carmarthen to the Severn Bridge.

From our modest beginnings we have strived through challenges to be amongst the top 10 conveyancing firms in Wales and are accredited with the conveyancing quality mark. Not only are our services award winning though, our staff are too.

Our senior partner, Catherine Hartland, has received a number of awards such as 'Best Woman in Business' (finalist) and Best Woman in Law (runner up).

Recently Kate Sullivan from our Neath office won 'Best CILEX Student' 2014 for her legal executive course – an achievement that we are all very proud of.

Newbolds have a great team of solicitors whom we have brought into our talented team and have further nurtured their skills.

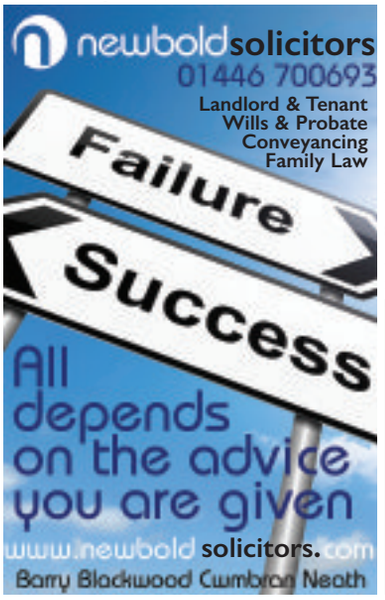
Our staff care about the results they achieve for their clients, they are approachable, friendly and speak in plain language so you always leave knowing we care and understand your issues, and you have the confidence in Newbolds to handle your case.

Newbolds has a specialist landlord and tenant department, family, wills and probate and of course a dynamic conveyancing department.

We do not believe in over charging clients and always make sure clients have value for their money.

We make sure you get the best possible results by working with you and although you may not have heard about us in the Vale, once you meet us, you will realise why we have become a market leader so quickly.

So contact us today to see if we can help you on 01446 700693.



Securahome sales and marketing manager Nigel Hocking (far left) presents an iPad to assistant head Jonathan Ling and pupils at Cowbridge Comprehensive School.

iPad gift offers window for learning at school

COWBRIDGE Comprehensive School students have taken delivery of a new iPad, as part of a local business's scheme to invest in IT for schools.

Securahome, which has showrooms in Ewenny Garden Centre, Bridgend, and Gorseinon, Swansea, is giving away iPads to schools across Wales as part of its 20th anniversary celebrations.

The iPad was presented to assistant head Jonathan Ling, who explained how tablet computers are used to aid learning in the school.

"iPads are used across the curriculum, for subjects from English through to chemistry," he said. "We have subject specific, educational apps on them as well as books for children to read in the iLibrary, teachers also use them to write their subject blogs, so this donation will get good use!"

Securahome, which specialises in the installation of orangeries, conservatories, windows and doors, launched the scheme to mark its two decades of business.

The comapny's MD, Jason Jenkins, said: "We've had a large number of referrals and recommendations from customers over our 20 years in business and so wanted to give something back to say 'thank you'.

"As a father, I know how important and useful IT is for learning, so donating iPads to schools seemed to be a natural way of giving something back to the community that has supported us so well."

Under the scheme, customers who are making an enquiry or referral can nominate a school to receive an iPad. Each month, Securahome will hold a draw of the names submitted, with the winner receiving an iPad.

Mr Ling added: "We are very pleased to be supporting this scheme, it is good to see a local business invest in the community in this way."

The scheme was also commended by Gowerton AM and minister for science, enterprise and transport Edwina Hart at its launch earlier this month.

The pleasures of cycling in the Vale

THE clocks have sprung forward, spring is now here and Easter is just around the corner.

It's great to see the roads and trails drying out so let's get the bikes serviced, either after a hard winter's use or hibernation, and enjoy the lovely Vale and beyond.

A bike feels transformed when worn tyres; brakes, cables and bearings are replaced, making your ride far more enjoyable.

Don't forget, if your bike is beyond economic repair, at Vale Cycle Servicing we can supply you with a nice new shiny bike from manufacturers such as Superior and Raleigh, with the first service free!

Bag up garden waste for collection

NOW that the spring to summer planting season is under way, make sure you use the Vale's garden waste service.

Collection dates are detailed on the council's website or in your recycling calendar and residents may ether use a reusable garden waste bag (£1) or biodegradable ones (3 for £1), available from most council reception desks.

Cabinet member for the environment and visible services Coun Rob Curtis, explains: "As waste management and cleansing colleague Phil Williams (pictured) shows, grass clippings, dead leaves, or foliage from pruning are all items that can be included.

"However, there are certain items that MUST be excluded – for example rubble, soil and invasive weeds such as Japanese Knotweed.

"Please ring the team if you are unsure, otherwise our crews may leave bags behind."

The Life and Times of a Liberated Woman, part 3

BY NANCY DAVIDGE

DURING my early teens living in Llangan, there was very little in the way of entertainment, so my time would be spent helping my father, perhaps turning the handle of the forge and listening to the stories of his life and childhood in Bristol.

He and his friend would hide on the ships leaving the Avonmouth docks to go to the West Indies. Of course, they would be found and sent home.

I was also taught to use a wood lathe and successfully turned out a couple of eggcups under my father's guidance.

They were indeed carefree days. I always had a variety of animals; cats, dogs, goats and ponies and of course the large carthorses used by my father in his work.

On Sundays, I was allowed to choose the records to be played on the wind-up gramophone. My first choice would be 'When it's springtime in the Rockies'. I dreamed one day I would go to the mountains, marry a cowboy and live on a ranch. Of course it was then an impossible dream.

It was decided I should go to Cardiff, live with my eldest sister and find work. This turned out to be as a children's nanny, caring for two small boys aged three and a half years and four and a half years. My wages were seven shillings a week plus my meals when on duty.

If I remained to look after the children while the parents went to the theatre, I would be given a big bag of sweets, sometimes it would be 11pm going home on my bicycle.

They were happy days, until the war clouds were gathering with the news of Hitler's armies invading some small countries, and then Mr Neville Chamberlain returning from Germany with the untrue statement "peace in our time'.

It was obvious the tension was growing between Germany and Britain. I was 16 years of age in the March, and war was declared in September. It was a rude awakening, I knew I would need to find work which would be of use to the country.

I immediately volunteered to become a blood donor, I did not realise how many hours I would eventually spend waiting for injured casualties in the then City Lodge.

I also became a warden in the ARP. About this time, I met a young man who was introduced to me by my brother-in-law. From our first meeting we got on well. His brother was a well-known Cardiff boxer having won a medal at the Olympics in Berlin. So, as I had been an ardent supporter of Jack Peterson, I was delighted to be invited to the exhibition fights he was involved in.

My boyfriend would visit my parents and help with getting in the hay during harvest time. I knew if and when he would be called to join one of the services he would choose the RAF. I asked him if he had a choice of being on the ground, would he do that.

A month later my boyfriend and I became engaged, shortly afterwards he had his call-up, and against my wishes volunteered to become a rear gunner. The second time he came home on leave I sensed a difference in him. Then the third time it was decided to have a party in his sister's home.

Of course I was invited but as the drinks were flowing my boyfriend was drinking to excess and showing me a side of him I never knew. Realising it was never going to work, when he returned to the RAF I wrote to him including the ring and ending our engagement.

I heard through the grapevine he eventually married with it lasting less than two years!

TREOES, LLANGAN & ST MARY HILL

St Canna's medieval history revealed

DURING the restoration of the old school room at St Canna's, Llangan, in 2011, some skeletons were discovered on the north side.

Under the guidance of archaeological experts, Richard and Sophie Lewis, analysis was carried out. The eight skeletons which were found are from the medieval period when records show that a place of worship was established in Llangan.

An illustrated talk was given last week by Richard and Sophie and they shared with a full and enthusiastic audience, their findings. They were able to show that some died from diseases and whether they were men or women or, in one case, a child aged two.

Examples were on display and included pottery, as well as some of the bones and teeth. Ugh!

Respecting that these were individuals once buried in the churchyard, their remains will be reburied during a short service at 1.30pm of Friday, May 2.

Carbon testing during the coming weeks will show whether the skeletons are from an even earlier period – perhaps Roman. We await the next instalment about the history of Llangan.

A big thank you to the ladies for the refreshments provided. Well done to the teams who have done so much to revive the community spirit in the parish, with wine club, book club, yoga lessons, coffee mornings and talks of such a high quality.

My own personal thanks to Gareth Williams for his help and information regarding this report!

News from Llangan school

ON Tuesday, March 25 the school's hockey team had a very successful tournament at Cowbridge Comprehensive school, winning all their matches!

On Thursday evening, April 3 Llangan School will be hosting a literacy and numeracy information evening for parents. On Friday, April 4 Llangan School council will attend the Copthorne Hotel in Cardiff for the Play Alwd awards ceremony.

St Canna's Green

THIS will be the new name for the proposed new development at the former St Mary Hill garden centre; four and five bedroom houses are promised, but what has happened to the promised affordable homes for the less well-off? The new name for the development 'St Canna's Green' could also cause some confusion with the church situated nearly a mile away!

Call for more tree planters

A BARRY environmental conservation group are calling on volunteers to help them plant native Welsh trees along one of the main entrances into Barry in memory of the 700 Barry men and women who never returned from the First World war.

Their next tree planting event will be on Saturday, April 5 from 11am till 12.30pm meeting at the junction of Merthyr Dyfan Road and Port Road East.

Please wear appropriate clothing and wellies or strong boots.

The Chairman of the White Farm Conservation Group, CounRob Curtis, said: "So far we have managed to plant around 250 trees but we need more volunteers to help us plant even more. So please feel free to come along and plant a few saplings which will give a home to wildlife for many years to come."

Charity event for gymnasts

AN Easter Bazaar will be held at Barry YMCA on Saturday, April 12, from 9am.

There will be an Easter bonnet competition, stalls, face and nail painting, games, lucky dip and tombola.

All proceeds to go to the female gymnasts fundraising to attend the Florida competition 2015.

Dinas Powys: 'Billy Liar'

DINAS POWYS Players are performing Billy Liar at the Parish Hall, Dinas Powys, on April 10, 11 and 12.

Curtain up at 7.30pm prompt; admission £7; concessions £6.50.

For tickets, telephone 02920 512868 or 02921 406168. Tickets also available at The Village Post Office, Village Stores, and the Murch Post Office, Camms Corner.

WHEN it comes to national stereotypes, dining out in a good Italian always gives you a reassuring sense of anticipation.

Choose a good French restaurant, for instance, and you might worry that the waiters will know a lot more about food and wine than you do – and they won't be shy about letting you know it!

Similarly, although UK food has come on in leaps and bounds in recent years, there is still the thought that some Brits don't take to service, and you can catch them in a grumpy mood.

A good Italian, however, comes with the promise that staff will enjoy serving you, and the certainty that they will encourage a relaxed atmosphere where diners talk, laugh, and enjoy the experience.

That is precisely how it felt to dine at L'Ariosto's, which is offering a wide choice of authentic Italian cuisine in Eastgate, Cowbridge, in the premises that for so long were occupied by Basil's.

Authentic because all the staff are Italian, in the main from the Calabria region, so you can expect bold flavours, generous portions and an attention to detail.

There's a comprehensive wine list, with bottles priced sensibly for all pockets. I find ordering the house wine is a good guide, and the house red was excellent.

For starters, I chose one of the house specials on the night, 'Zuppa di fagioli' – a spicy bean soup. The Italian regions all have their version of a peasant soup, and this one was very satisfying, with plenty of flavour and thick with vegetables.

My guest chose polpette – meatballs in a spicy tomato sauce – and these were excellent, with a chilli kick in the sauce combining well with the savoury spiced meatballs. A definite success.

She followed this with veal alla crema, a generous portion of tender meat, with a sauce of white wine and mushrooms. Standard with all main courses is a dish with a variety of vegetables and potatoes – all fresh and lightly cooked, and more in quantity than either of us could manage.

However, while the veal was good, I felt I hit the jackpot with my main course, 'Tagliata di Manzo', a dish that takes your breath away when it arrives at the table.

It comes served in a basket – made of crisp spaghetti – and this basket is overflowing with four main ingredients. There is courgette, beetroot and pecorino cheese – all thinly sliced – and these really work well together, with the strong pecorino counterbalancing the vegetables.

However, scattered through this dish were pieces of beef, again thinly sliced, melt-in-your mouth pink strips of the best beef I have tasted in years. My guest agreed, and was only too happy to steal them off my plate!

Tagliata di Manzo is not a Calabrian speciality – it is a Florentine dish – and there is something about the way they flavour the strips of beef that makes them very special indeed.

We both struggled to finish our main courses, and after the Tagliata it was time to take a breather and see if we could find space for a dessert. We were wavering, but then we were shown the contents of the dessert shelf!

L'Ariosto's vary their desserts, so if you pitch up on a Wednesday, by Friday there may well be another speciality there.

We were offered a 'Bisqui a la fragole' - slightly misleading because there is was no biscuit in it. It looked like a strudel but had the texture of a sponge, and was filled with chantilly cream and strawberries. This was a real delight.

Our second dessert was a satisfyingly rich chocolate semifreddo, and they proved to be a fine way to finish an excellent meal.

Diners can expect to pay between £15 and £25 for a three-course meal at L'Ariosto's – depending on whether you opt for a pasta or pizza main course, or go for an option such as the Tagliata di Manzo (£15.95).

The pizza, incidentally, is big enough for two to share, which would make a fine early evening meal, and L'Ariosto's is also offering a £9.95 two course special option.

The Vale is well served for dining out, and keen competition promotes high standards. It looks as if L'Ariosto's will be more than holding its own in that league.

Tales from the Vale...

THIS occasional series of articles by Angharad Wynne is based on the content of a 'vellum-covered note-book' written by a 'tall, solitary old gentleman, in a rusty black suit and yarn stockings' who was known to the lawyers of Lincoln's Inn, London.

He was 'a Welshman…who visited his native Vale of Glamorgan every long vacation.' His note- book was published posthumously in 1839 as 'The Vale of Glamorgan, Scenes and Tales among the Welsh'.

Three Spirit Nights

THERE are three 'spirit nights' in the Glamorgan calendar. They are known as Ysprydnos and are considered nights when the veil between the world is at its thinnest.

Traditions associated with these nights involve divination of the future, particularly predicting one's sweetheart or future spouse. These Ysprydnos fall on All Hallows Eve – our modern day Hallowe'en – Christmas Eve, and May Day Eve.

Our narrator relates the story of how he once determined to see his future bride on All Hallow's Eve, and the intricate series of 'rituals' he undertook to do so.

First, he turned his coat and waistcoat inside out and walked around the church 'the right number of times'.

The next thing to be done was obtain a pair of lady's garters! Our narrator is given a pair by an obliging girl in the local hall, he ties them together with what he describes as 'a true lover's knot' and lays them next to his heart until going to bed.

The final part of the ritual involved placing the 'charm' – the knotted garters – beneath the seeker's pillow, presumably either to induce a vision in the dark or to dream of one's future partner.

In the case of our by now rather terrified narrator, he does indeed see a vision beyond his bedclothes, a woman dressed in garb which suggested that she dwelt 'in a land that is beyond the sea'.

He also recounts the exploits of Gwen Rees, a local girl who used the tides of a Christmas Eve to divine her future husband. The 'ritual' involved stoking up the hearth fire and laying a clean cloth on the table and upon it a feast of tempting dishes.

She then undressed, washed her smock in a pail of clear spring water and spread it carefully to dry on the back of a chair near the fire.

Gwen then went to her bed, listening hard to hear if her smock and the supper would draw the spirit of her future husband to the fireside.

She soon heard sounds in the room below and tiptoed out of bed to peep through wide cracks between the floorboards. There, sure enough, was a dark figure sitting by the fire 'making much of her fresh-washed smock.'

But when she looked more closely, she discovered to her dismay that the dark figure was actually the family's large black cat licking its chops after having devoured much of the dainty feast. Then 'he pricked up his ears, and giving a knowing look, he stretched out his paw to the poor girl's smock, which he began to play with and dandle.'

Yet another account recalls the experience of preacher Thomas Williams, who spent a night sleeping in the hills on an Ysprydnos. He used no tricks or charms whatsoever, yet when he got into bed the following night, the door of his chamber opened, the room filled with light and the mother of the young woman whom he was later to marry walked in with her daughter in her hand.

The apparition addressed the preacher, saying: "Here, Thomas, I am going; but I leave Mary for you." In the morning the preacher discovered that indeed, the old woman had died during the night, at the very moment of the visitation.

Glamorgan shares these Ysprydnos traditions with places across the British Isles. Many a mountain-top, Neolithic burial chamber, spring and stone circle has such folk rituals associated with it, though of course the specific customs differ from place to place.

They are the echoes of the rites of our Celtic and pre-Celtic ancestors handed down generation to generation, surviving many social and religious changes.

New book tells the story of veteran's Second World War

MR Alan Higgins, who lives in Bridgend but was born and grew up in Barry, has published his first book at the young age of 90.

Mr Alan Higgins.

'You're in the Navy Now' is a vivid record of Alan's extensive wartime service in the Royal Navy.

He was born at Number 28 Burlington Street, Barry Dock, on November 25, 1923, and in September 1939, at the tender age of 15, decided to travel to Cardiff to join the Royal Air Force. However, the RAF decided not to accept his offer!

Not to be put off, Alan went to the Senior Service recruiting office next door and joined the Navy "to see the world."

So began a period of great adventure, some excitement and not a little danger. In 1941, at Scapa Flow, he joined HMS Edinburgh, a 10,000 ton six-inch gun cruiser. The Edinburgh took young Alan to Malta in the Mediterranean, to South Africa and to the Arctic Circle before she was sunk in April or May by a German U-boat. She was carrying tons of gold, too.

Stranded in Russia Alan experienced more hair-raising escapades during a six months stay in Polyarno, before he was returned to the UK.

In early 1943, the Royal Navy decided to send him, with others, to Norfolk, Virginia in the USA, to help bring a Landing Craft Infantry, across 'The Pond'.

"Arriving at Norfolk you can imagine my shock when I saw my landing craft: she was 160 foot long, 23 foot beam, flat bottomed, four-foot draught amidships, 250 tons and eight diesel main engines, the size one would see on a bus. I was seasick on a 10,000 ton cruiser, so one can imagine how I fared on a 250-ton craft!! The crew was about 16 or 17 with two officers."

Alan's job was to receive and decode wireless messages. From Norfolk, they sailed to Gibraltar, via Bermuda, with adventures along the way. LCI (L) 111 entered the Mediterranean, where they would be bombed and shot at as they embarked on several missions to land troops on various beaches. Alan was present during the invasions of Sicily and Italy. He was at Salerno and Anzio too.

"I should mention that as well as being the telegraphist, I was also the signalman, which served me in good stead as a witness to all the landings in which we took part, including all the Mediterranean landings.

"Anzio was particularly rough – thanks to the constant air attacks and shelling – but I must record my admiration at the courage and fortitude of the British Tommy.

"At Anzio, I expressed these feelings to a particularly brave soldier. He turned to me and said – 'Jack, let me tell you something, I couldn't get off that tin box ship of yours quick enough.' Alan's 'reward' for serving in combined operations in the Med was to be sent to Sword Beach, Normandy, in June 1944, as part of Operation Overlord, the invasion of Nazi-occupied France.

Here Mr Higgins experienced more of the hellishness of modern warfare: "Through the ring of bombarding vessels we sailed, and as the beach grew nearer, one could see splashes as shells and mortars homed in on and near the landing area.

"As we reached the beach and began unloading, the first casualties were sustained."

The orders were for all wounded to be landed on the beach.

"There was one soldier being helped by two others, his left foot and boot as one in a mangle of flesh and leather. I shall never forget the almost apologetic look he gave me as he passed by."

Then Alan went back to the Mediterranean and on to the Adriatic. Here he embarked on various 'capers', before returning to Old Blighty when the war was well over.

As the blurb on the back of Mr Higgins's book says: 'Despite the horrors and terrors, You're in the Navy Now is rich in gentle humour'.

You're in the Navy Now is available from this email address: DAVESUECLARA@btopenworld.com. The cost will be £10, plus £2 postage and packaging.

Mr Higgins will be selling and signing copies of his book at the Glamorgan Wartime Heritage Centre @ Barry Island Station on Easter Sunday, April 20, from 1pm – 4pm.

NEWS FROM THE VALE OF GLAMORGAN RAMBLERS

A hazy day in the Gower

WALKS in the Gower area are always popular with the Vale of Glamorgan Ramblers, especially when the weather forecast is a positive one.

The starting point for the walk was just outside the village of Reynoldston, and the walk was to take in the second highest point in the Gower, the Cefn Bryn (ridge hill).

This was a figure of eight route, first taking in the western end and after lunch continuing on the eastern side of the ridge.

Thirty eager ramblers were ready for the lovely walk, the first point of interest was Arthur's Stone, or Maen Ceti.

There are many legends and tales associated with this, but it is a Neolithic burial site dating back to 2500 BC and was one of the first sites to be protected under the Ancient Monuments Act of 1882.

Sharing the walk with the various animals that graze there, we were greeted to the most spectacular view of the Gower Peninsula and beyond.

We continued along the western edge of the ridge, stopping for a coffee break on the way before making our way back to Reynoldston where we had a lunch break at the local pub, King Arthur.

After lunch, we made our way back to the starting point, before the walk on the eastern side of the ridge. Although hazy, it was just clear enough to make out the Brecon Beacons in the far distance, before we made our way to the highest point of the ridge, and marvelled at the view of Oxwich Bay and Three Cliffs Bay before us.

This is a popular route with walkers, as it forms part of the Gower Way. We just passed one of the 50 markers which marks the route, making our way to the start of the walk, stopping on route to admire the milestone that was put there to commemorate the Queen's Jubilee.

After such a lovely walk, there was only one way in which to finish the day off, and that was going back to the pub. Our thanks to Bill and John for leading and organising the walk.

Further information regarding walks can be found on valeofglamorganramblers.co.uk, or follow us on Facebook or Twitter.

UNDER-9S SHINE IN TOURNAMENT!

Disappointing end to season for the Penarth hockey teams

Penarth Hockey Club wound up its 2013-14 Davis Wood Hockey League campaign in disappointing fashion, with both sides going down to defeat in matches with little meaning for the Vale side.

ABERYSTWYTH UNIVERSITY 5 PENARTH HC 3

Having already secured fourth position in De Cymru & The Marches 1 with victory against Whitchurch the previous weekend, the 1st XI travelled west to Lampeter to close their season against an Aberystwyth University team flirting with relegation.

With more to play for, the students started the game strongly, pressing high and putting the Penarth back four under a lot of pressure.

However, by weathering the storm, it was the visitors who struck first, taking the lead against the run of play with another superb individual goal from Chris Baker.

Despite seizing the advantage, Penarth still couldn't get a grip on the game, and it was only a matter of time before Aberystwyth hit back, threading a long ball through the visitors' midfield and defence to find a man wide open in the 'D'.

Having made no mistake with that chance, the students grabbed control of the game and added another two goals in quick succession to make the score 3-1 at halftime.

The day soon turned into one to forget for Penarth as they went another goal down just after the break and, even though the Vale side managed to pull a couple of goals back through second half strikes from Sam Wooding and Tom Haran, the students cemented their success – and possible survival in the division – with a fifth goal to make the final score 5-3.

PENARTH HC 'A' 1-4 CARDIFF & MET 'F'

Buoyed by the 7-2 drubbing handed out to old rivals Whitchurch the previous Saturday, the 2nd XI's final fixture saw them facing off against a Cardiff & Met side keen to avenge defeat on home soil in early December.

Despite missing a couple of players from the Whitchurch game, Penarth fancied their chances of another success, even though the opposition had mounted a surprisingly strong – and goal-heavy – end to their campaign, but ultimately came undone amid a hail of set-pieces.

Although the early phases proved evenly matched, with chances at both ends, the Cardiff side eventually benefitted from Penarth conceding a soft penalty corner midway through the half.

Having opened the scoring, the visitors increased the pressure – only to concede a goal at the other end as Dave Watkins' run to the bye-line resulted in a simple tap in for the supporting Tom Davies.

Although level on the scoreboard, Penarth still had work to do to match their opponents in terms of pressure, and another couple of well-worked goals tipped the game firmly in Cardiff's favour heading into the break.

Determined to go down fighting, the home side proved more resilient in a tetchy second period and, despite allowing the visitors a fourth goal midway through the half, enjoyed as much of a presence at the opposite end, with Watkins being denied on several occasions.

Youngster Rory Vizard showed why he will play an important part in Penarth's 2014-15 season with some impressive touches up front, while Davies signed off his final game before leaving for university with a strong performance in midfield.

Goalkeeper Calum Grant also departs, but not before turning in another defiant display between the sticks in his final game.

Despite the defeat, Penarth remain sixth in the De Cymru 2 standings, having shown a vast improvement over last season.

Although league action is now done and dusted, the season is not yet over for PHC, with the annual AGM and dinner scheduled for April 10/11 respectively, and a veterans' game against a touring Stafford side planned for Sunday, April 13.

Penarth Hockey Club always welcomes new, old and returning players, umpires, supporters, friends and helpers regardless of age and ability.

Training takes place on the artificial turf at Barry Sport Centre every Wednesday, with the juniors in action between 6-7pm and seniors between 7-8pm.

Barry Youth team clings on for win

FOLLOWING restructuring and the signing of new coach, ex- Dragons centre Johnny Bryant, Barry youth were back in the fray last weekend with a well earned too close for comfort victory over opponents Llanrumney.

The long lay off told with Barry being slightly rusty in tactics and defence, using the strong wind at their back Llanrumney took the advantage and scored two unconverted tries without response.

With players out of position due to work commitments it took some time before the green and whites settled down into a rhythm. Barry soon got down to business and put the pressure on the visitors pack making ground through drives by Hunt, Goodfellow and Miles.

Nathan Harris, returning to the squad, deputised in the front row and made it his own, while Legg shifting from number ten to second row added weight to an already impressive unit.

Barry had their chances - however they were denied any score in the first half.

Playing with the wind in the second half and using fresh legs off the bench, Barry were soon on the scoreboard with a seven pointer, the touchline conversion from Flynn superb.

Playing with confidence now the home side punished the opposition again when scrumhalf Emyr Byrne picked up from a scrum and sniped from 10 metres to score, Flynn once again converting.

Barry were in the lead for the first time but this was short lived when a loose defensive kick saw their opponents use space and width to score out wide.

Llanrumney had no conversions and were in the narrowest of leads 15-14.

Undeterred the home side used the wind to pin back the visitors in their own half and when the ref deemed they had transgressed the awarded penalty was moved 10 metres closer after they had deliberately kicked the ball away.

Flynn then put Barry in the lead again at 17-15. A win was clearly in sight and Barry were playing in the right areas.

However, a turnover and kick downfield saw Barry desperately defending in their 22, with forwards going off their feet Llanrumney were gifted a match clinching penalty in front of the posts, except nerves got to the kicker and it sailed wide to the relief of management and spectators.

This was the final score and a much needed tonic for the squad.

This Saturday (April 5), the team are away to Tondu and the bus leaves the club at 1pm.

OLYMPIC SHOW JUMPER OPENS EQUESTRIAN CENTRE IN THE VALE

FORMER show jumping champion and guest of honour, David Broome CBE, recently declared AJT Equestrian, a brand new equine training centre at Little Hamston Farm, Dyffryn, open.

Up to 100 competitors attended a two-day event, which marked the grand opening of the centre, developed by the Thomson family on their farm in the Vale of Glamorgan.

The former European champion, Olympian and BBC Sports Personality of the Year, David Broome, praised the family for their dedication.

He said: "It's wonderful to see what has been achieved here and I'm honoured to be invited along to celebrate the grand opening. Amy was a first class student of mine and this centre will allow her to share her skills with others. I wish the family every success."

Amy Thomson, who was trained by David Broome and also holds the title of current British National Amateur Show jumper developed the equine training facility with her parents Alison and David on their farm.

Her vision is to develop a top rank equestrian centre in south Wales offering training in three disciplines: dressage, show jumping and eventing, on a purpose built outdoor ménage.

In addition to offering day and weekend courses, and events, the family will also hire out the facility to schoolmasters, clinics and for residential weekends.

This is the first facility of its kind in this area, and interest from the equine community is already reaching far and wide.

The development at Little Hamston Farm was supported through funding from the 'Pride in our Farming Families' grant scheme at Creative Rural Communities, the Rural Regeneration Department of the Vale Council.

In all, 13 farming families in the rural Vale have been supported, with over £578k invested in projects of this nature.

The grant scheme was developed to help the farming community in the rural Vale diversify into non-agricultural activities, to develop businesses to support income generation, supplementing farming activity and supporting future generations.

Nia Hollins, senior rural regeneration officer at Creative Rural Communities said: "I'm incredibly proud to be here to support the Thomsons in celebrating the official opening of AJT Equestrian.

"Amy and her family have worked tirelessly to reach this point and the turnout this weekend is testament to the dedication this family have shown in supporting their daughter in reaching her goal.

"This is a true example of what our grant scheme initially set out to do."

The project was funded through the Rural Development Plan (RDP) for Wales, by the Welsh Government and the European Agricultural Fund for Rural Development. The project is administered by Creative Rural Communities through the Vale Council; £372k RDP funding has supported the farming community in the Rural Vale through this scheme.

MICHIGAN, SPLASH AND THEIR VAULTING TEAM SHOW OFF TALENTS ON THE BEACH

On a recent brisk Sunday afternoon, visitors at Ogmore beach were entertained by a spontaneous display from a local team of equestrian vaulters from Talygarn Equestrian Centre. Vaulting is gymnastics on the back of a horse in walk, trot and canter, with the control of a lunger. It incorporates beauty and brilliance, power and strength, elegance and precision – all in harmony with the horse. Visit www.talygarnec.co.uk/vaulting.

Students get hands-on lessons in healthy living

NOW in its sixth year, Healthy Living Week at Barry Comprehensive School is a focal point of spring term, with students and staff taking part in activities promoting healthy eating, healthy bodies, healthy minds, healthy relationships and – for the second time – a healthy planet.

Miss Smith, Mr Rudholm and Marks and Spencer manager Mr Trew busy preparing fruit with students.

For the first time ever the school was lucky enough to have the use of a fantastic smoothie bike, kindly lent to us from Porthcawl-based charity Sustainable Wales. Local supermarkets Marks and Spencer and Waitrose, were extremely generous with fruit donations, which allowed the pupils to whizz up their own smoothies, while keeping fit at the same time!

Martin Trew, one of the managers at Culverhouse Marks and Spencer got involved with chopping fresh fruit and making smoothies which the students really enjoyed.

Fresh fruit was also sold by members of the student parliament at break and lunch times and profits from fruit smoothie sales going to the Sustainable Wales charity. Year-7 took part in practical emergency life-saving skills using the Heartstart programme and a successful inter-form dodgeball competition took place too.

Normal lessons were replaced with extra sports activities such as karate, breakdancing, dodgeball, basketball and mini-tennis, all arranged by the school's 5×60 officer Stefan Williams, in addition to the full schedule of extra-curricular sporting activities at break and lunchtime.

Other activities included Wales Air Ambulance sharing the good work they provide across Wales, saving people's lives; and Going Public Theatre Company delivered a theatre performance to year-9 which highlighted issues and raised awareness of the misuse of alcohol.

Students identifying different fruits.

Assemblies focused on healthy relationships, healthy communities, healthy bodies and healthy minds with the Faculty of Performing Arts putting on a short play written and performed by students on the themes of bullying and body image.

Continuing these topics were interactive and exciting sessions provided by our partners Vibe Experience, Vale Youth Service's C-Card Scheme and Show Racism the Red Card.

There was even a dentist on site to check some year 7 and 8 students' teeth!

GOLDEN WEDDING
Cooper
Richard and Xarifa would like to thank all family and friends who helped celebrate their Golden Wedding. The beautiful gifts and cards will be treasured, but best of all will be the memories of a wonderful evening with so many lovely people. A special thank you to our amazing son Ed for the 60's music and to the RAF St Athan Golf Club and staff for the venue/buffet.

Mavis
April 7th 2013

We often think of bygone days
When we were all together
The family chain is broken now
But memories live forever
Sweet is her memory
Dear is her name
Deep in our hearts
She will always remain

Love from husband Bill, son and daughter Adrian & Angela, daughter in law Beth, grandchildren and great grandchildren

OAKLEY
Jessie

Peacefully on March 29 at College Fields Nursing Home, Barry, Jessie of St Athan. Beloved wife of the late Ivor, dearly loved mother of Robert.

Resting at the Private Funeral Home of W James & Sons, Fonmon. Funeral Monday April 7, service and cremation at 2.45pm at Coychurch Crematorium, Bridgend. No flowers by request.

BEECHEY
Roger

Peacefully on March 30 at Holme Tower, Penarth, Roger, aged 60 years of St Athan and formerly of Tongwynlais. Loving father of Paul, beloved son of Eileen Cain and the late Harry Beechey and step-father Edwin, brother of Angela, Paul and Peter, uncle to all his nieces and nephews, a dear friend of Frances and family.

Sleep peacefully till we meet again.

Resting at the Private Funeral Home of W James & Sons, Fonmon. Funeral Tuesday April 8, service and cremation 2.15pm at Coychurch Crematorium, Bridgend. No flowers by request, donations in lieu, if desired, to Holme Tower Marie Curie Centre c/o J James, 11 Fonmon Road, Rhoose, Vale of Glamorgan CF62 3DZ.

OVERY
John

Doreen and family would like to express their gratitude for the love and support given during the passing of John - beloved husband and dad.

The donations for Velindre, and the cards and flowers received, have been of great comfort during this sad time.

DOWNEY
Valerie

Peacefully, after a long illness borne with courage and good spirit, on 25th March 2014 at The Marie Curie Hospice, Penarth, aged 79 years. Beloved wife of the late and much missed Gerald, loving mother of Michael and Helen, respected mother-in-law of Ellen and Tomos, doting grandmother of Tom and Huw, a good neighbour and friend to many.

Resting at A.G. Adams & Son funeral home, Gladstone Road, Barry, until the service at All Saints Church, Barry on Tuesday, 8th April 2014 at 12 noon followed by a committal service (for family and close friends only) at the Cardiff & Glamorgan Crematorium, Port Road East, Barry at 1.30pm.

Please wear a Marie Curie daffodil at the service. Family flowers only please; donations in lieu of flowers, to either The Marie Curie Cancer Care (Holme Tower) or Tenovus, may be sent to the funeral home.

Local charity football match sees Ty Hafan as the real winner!

ABOVE: The Ty Hafan Dads, Dan Evans/Palms Bistro FC, Island Marine and Cadoxton Imps mini teams at Jenner Park

ON a lovely sunny Sunday afternoon at the Jenner Park, the meaning of the beautiful game was fully illustrated.

In a match dubbed 'Elder Classico', the Ty Hafan Dads met Dan Evans/Palms Bistro FC, and nobody was disappointed except the first aiders, who were expecting a high number of casualties!

The match was very evenly balanced from start to finish which was credit to two very competitive teams who gave their all. Dan Evans started stronger and took the lead through a neat finish which sparked Ty Hafan into a response.

The Dads started to get a foothold in the game and an absolutely incredible lob from Steve brought the sides level, leaving the Dan Evans keeper with no chance!

Like any good team this brought Dan Evans back to life and before long another good finish from Rhidian Scott put them in front again. The Dads then lost a key player in goalkeeper Jeff Griffiths through a major foot injury which could have seriously damaged their hopes of winning the game.

A challenge in the box by Lyndon Davies led to the Ty Hafan Dads having a penalty which was calmly slotted away by Liam Pullin, which brought the scores level again.

In a frantic finale to the game Dan Evans came on strong again, playing some lovely football and, but for some incredible saves from replacement keeper Paul, they would have finished the game off sooner.

The Dads battled courageously until the last minute when a defensive error led to an own goal which won a highly entertaining game in favour of Dan Evans. Man of the match was awarded to Lloyd Bruce.

A spokesperson for the event said " This has been a fantastic day and we are all proud to contribute to such a great charity. A big thank you must go to referee Chris Bowsher who was outstanding throughout the game and also the mini teams of Island Marine and Cadoxton Imps who kept us fully entertained at halftime, showing how football should be played.

"Photographer Paul Fears was also a huge bonus to the event as were general public and Ty Hafan families and friends who turned up to support the teams. We all look forward to next year's game and hope we can generate the same wonderful response from every one involved."

"The final total raised will be announced soon but it has exceeded all expectation, so well done to everyone for your support."

Under-16s' cup and league success

LLANTWIT MAJOR FC under-16s progressed to the Cup final with a comfortable 7-1 win over Sully recently.

Goals by Will Perkins, Rhys Hunter (two), Matthew Clay (two), a screamer from Matthew Cassidy and one from Gabriel Oram sealed their place at Jenner Park on April 9.

They then played closest rivals Porthkerry Panthers in the league and recorded a crucial away win to open up a five point gap at the top of the table over nearest rivals Panthers and Dinas Powis (with both to play).

A fantastic strike from Kris Jones from fully 30 yards opened the scoring and another from the outstanding Ashford Thomas grabbed the headlines.

However, a very hard working and organised team performance from everyone was the key to the victory.

A tough run-in awaits with five league games to go, having already played at favourites Maesteg in the semi-final of the Tesco Cup.

Keeping it in the family!

WELSH KARATE LEAGUE held its champion of champions event at Cogan Leisure centre.

The event was a great success with just under 400 competitors, with an equal amount of spectators.

The Hutchinson family are pictured with their winning trophies. Trinity Hutchinson will be travelling to Italy this year to defend the gold medal she won at the European championships - we wish her the best of luck.

If anyone is interested in training at our club, go to www.karate-jutsu.org or come along to Cogan Leisure centre any evening, as the club runs as a full-time Dojo.

COWBRIDGE COMPREHENSIVE SPORTS ROUND-UP

Girls basketball team are the champions!

THE second and final round, of the 5x60 tournament took place on Wednesday, March 19 in the Rhondda Fach Sports Centre.

Bringing together the first and second place teams from all over south east Wales it was a winner takes all battle for the regional championship.

Representing Cowbridge was the Key Stage 3 Girls team. Whilet both Cowbridge boys' teams had fallen short in the first round ,the girls had come out on top as Vale champions. So on Wednesday they arrived in RCT ready and eager for the challenge that lay ahead, determined to show any challengers they knew no fear.

Co-captains Beth Edwards and Jess Gregory led the team.

Sophie Hawkins started as shooting guard, Ella Jones and Emily Gregory were the forwards and Selina Radcliffe and Hollie Oakman rounded out the side at the centre position. Worth noting is that this was a Key Stage 3 competition with most teams fielding sides of mostly Year 9 students.

Cowbridge had no such luxury, with Selina being the only battle hardened Year 9 and the remaining six of the team being young Year 7's.

First up for Cowbridge, playing in the first game of the day, was Pen-y-Dre High School. As Cowbridge took to the court they couldn't help but notice they would be going up against an imposing looking team of tall Year 9's.

Their worries quickly disappeared as their talent, skill and determination shone through immediately. Powered by Beth's inside game, Cowbridge poured on the points and had the game effectively won by halftime.

A dangerous flagrant foul in the second half on Cowbridge's young point guard did nothing but fuel the fire as Cowbridge continued to run riot, eventually triumphing 40-7.

In their second game Cowbridge squared up against Afon Taf High School. This game was a near rerun of the first contest with Cowbridge dominating from the tip off.

Baskets were being scored from all over the floor and Afon Taf had no answer for the devastating Cowbridge full court press and they struggled to get off any decent shots. One solitary field goal was all they could muster as Cowbridge remaining consistent and scored another 40 points in their second victory of the day.

All that then remained for Cowbridge was their old nemesis from the Vale round, St Cyres School. The last time these two schools met it was a defensive master class that ended in a 6-6 draw. (Cowbridge went on to win the first round on point differential.)

The Welsh cross country team.

With the game operating as the de facto final it meant Cowbridge was 20 minutes away from raising the trophy. The day and venue had afforded the sides the opportunity to get to know one another and become friendly over a shared love of basketball.

When the starting whistle blew however all that went out the window and the fierce will of the Cowbridge girls emerged once again. Cowbridge were immediately the stronger team from the get go, getting the ball inside and scoring off the glass with repeated bank shots.

An early lead was built and proved fortuitous as the game progressed. Both sides struggled to begin the second half as they missed at close range and felt fatigue set in.

A couple of baskets by St Cyres narrowed the gap but Cowbridge weathered the storm and forged ahead making a number of crucial plays at key moments in the final minutes. Eventually the whistle sounded and Cowbridge were victorious 26-18.

Congratulations girls, it was a well-deserved and hard earned victory. All those hours in the mornings (the teams train for 30 minutes before school four days a week) paid off and now Cowbridge will reign as south east Wales champions for the next 12 months; now let's get back in that gym, get training again and start the preparation for our title defence in 2015!

CRICKET

The cricket under-15 girls took part in the Cardiff & Vale Knockout Lady Taverners at the Swalec Stadium on March 20.

Cowbridge played Cardiff High School and Glantaf twice in eight over matches. Our first match was against Cardiff High School and we only lost out by 10 runs, with excellent bowling from Selina Radcliffe and Freya Johnson.

We were slow to start scoring runs but Ffion McNamee played well and we nearly caught their score. Final score 107 to 117 runs.

Our second match against Glantaf was not so good; we gave away extras when we bowled to several wides through the game. Our batting was better with Mali Howells scoring 13. Final score Cowbridge 60 runs, Glantaf 85.

Our game against Cardiff High was really close and very exciting. We batted very well with Ffion McNamee and Selina Radcliffe retiring with 15 runs each. Our fielding and bowling was very good and we won the game by just one run, 87-88.

Playing Glantaf for the second time we learnt from our mistakes from the first game and beat them comfortably 94-80. Excellent bowling from Ffion McNamee and Eleanor Lewis. Special mention to Meriel Clode who played extremely well as wicket keeper in every game. Well done girls!

The under 13 (Year 7 and 8) girls' cricket team took part in the Lady Taverners' indoor cricket competition at the Swalec Stadium.

Only Cardiff High and St. Teilo's also entered. Each team played each other twice.

Cowbridge faced Cardiff High in the first match and Cardiff High won scoring 85 runs to Cowbridge's 71. Freya Johnson did well as bowler taking two wickets and Mali Howell scored 21 runs for Cowbridge.

In the second game Cowbridge faced St. Teilo's and Cowbridge won 90 runs to St. Teilo's 72. Again Freya Johnson took most wickets and Mali scored most runs.

When Cowbridge played Cardiff High the second time around, Cowbridge put up a strong fight but lost by only six runs, 89 runs to 83. In the second game against St. Teilo's, Cowbridge won convincingly 114 to 44 runs.

With Meriel Clode, Abi Johnson and Emily Jenkins making lots of runs and Ffion McNamee and Abi Johnson both doing well bowling two players at each, Cowbridge came second overall. Well done.

NETBALL

Lydia Hitchings, Year 12 pupil at Cowbridge Comprehensive School, played netball for Wales in a home international match.

The year 7 county netballers.

She played against Scotland where the team lost, they beat Northern Ireland and lost against England, although put up a good performance against them. Overall, because of point difference, Wales came second overall. Well done to Lydia.

Year 7 took part in the Netball County Finals first round on March 21; we were drawn against Llantwit, St. Illtyds and Bro Edern.

We played St. Illtyds, first dominating every area of the game and not allowing the ball into our defending end of the court until the one goal in the second half.

Excellent shooting from Helena McCormack gave us a 5-1 win. Next we played Llantwit; we were very strong in defence with lovely interceptions from Beth Edwards and Ella Jones. Again lovely shooting by Eve Mordecai and Helena secured a very solid win, final score 10-0.

Lastly we played Bro Edern. This was a messy game with lots of contact in the first half. Once we had settled down our game improved.

We had several good linked passes from our defence through to our goal circle from Lauren Harry, Beth Edwards, Jessica Gregory, Ella Jones and Ffion Hughes.

Excellent shooting again from Stephanie Brownhill and Helena McCormack secured a very good performance, final score 12-1.

We look forward to county netball finals day on Friday, April 4, along with our Year 8 and Year 10 teams.

Player of the tournament Helena McCormack.

CROSS COUNTRY

Three boys from Cowbridge Comprehensive School travelled through sleet and snow to Brecon to compete in the Welsh Schools' National Cross-Country Championship.

The boys, Wil O'Connor, Ben Batten and Jack Tudor, were competing as part of Year 7 Cardiff and The Vale district team.

Ninety-six boys, representing eight districts from all over Wales competed for both individual and team medals. Each district was represented by 12 boys, the scores of the first six boys to finish in each team counting.

Cowbridge Comprehensive was well represented in the Cardiff and Vale team taking three of the 12 places, with no other school having more than one representative.

After weeks of rain and the weather throwing everything it could at the competitors, running through the quagmire of a course was going to be tough for everyone.

Wil, Ben and Jack all showed great tenacity, eventually crossing the line, exhausted and looking as if they had just been through an ice mud bath!

Their determination was rewarded, with an individual bronze medal for Jack and a team gold medal for Cardiff and the Vale, with all three Cowbridge boys finishing in the top six for their team.

After a grueling day, the three Cowbridge boys deserved to receive the honour of being Welsh Schools National Cross Country champions 2014.

Reported by Wil O'Connor, year 7.

Eye-catching design at an attractive price...

THE NISSAN JUKE HAS PLENTY TO OFFER YOU!

The Nissan Juke.

BY TIM SAUNDERS

THAT'S the combination on offer from Nissan with its Juke, the increasingly fashionable compact sports utility vehicle.

There's no denying it, it's a great design that from a distance looks like a three door but thanks to cleverly concealed rear door handles it is actually a five door vehicle.

For under £15,000 excluding VAT it represents extremely good value for money, too. It seems to appeal to all generations from the young girl who cycles past and tells her dad how she likes it through to the middle aged man who simply stands and stares and the gentleman of senior years who I spot in Weymouth driving one.

Arguably, the brown finish of the test vehicle lends itself to the design although I feel that cream leather upholstery would complement this particularly well.

As it is, the black cloth seats are comfortable, even over a fairly long journey from Hampshire to Dorset.

The raised ride height is always a welcome bonus for me because it gives greater command of the road. It also allows the driver to spot parking spaces that others do not in packed car parks.

I find the 1.5 diesel unit pleasantly 'poky' at speeds under 60mph with third gear being very responsive between 30mph and 60mph.

Over that speed, it proves slower than expected and at times struggles to hold its own while in the outside lane of the motorway. Hills slow it up a bit requiring a change down to fourth gear but it is only a 1.5 litre and a diesel and so overall it does a good job. With hard driving it will return over 40mpg.

The best recorded was around 47mpg. Perhaps surprisingly the Juke really does hold the road and feels like it's on rails when cornering, meaning that it can be driven with gusto even around bends.

Rather than simply being an attractive head-turner it is also pleasingly a driver's car helped by the fairly hard suspension. The n-tec model tested also comes fitted with cruise control which is useful for motorway cruising.

The test takes place just after the UK has been badly battered by storms and the Juke copes with the floods admirably. Just down the road from my parents-in-law there is an enormous flood that has previously shut the road but the Juke makes light work of it.

Reversing the Juke is made easier by the camera display on the dashboard. Without that it would be a little tricky due to the design of the rear.

While we're talking about the rear, it looks a little awkward to me, there is something that could be improved about it but I can't quite put my finger on what.

Head on and the side profile both get a firm 10 out of 10 but the rear gets 8.

Inside it is well equipped with all round electric windows, air conditioning and sat nav as you can see in the video at testdrives.biz. I also like the bulbous chrome door handles. There is enough room inside for four or five occupants to be comfortable and the boot is large enough for a pushchair.

A very capable and enjoyable SUV.

Golf course's investment

COTTRELL PARK Golf Resort near Cardiff has unveiled a comprehensive investment plan to improve facilities and on-course machinery.

The south Wales golf and leisure destination is set to re-invest over £230,000 to strengthen its catering and golf offering.

As part of an extensive development and growth strategy, Cottrell Park Golf Resort has spent over £180,000 on new machinery for golf course management and a fleet of golf buggies, as well as £50,000 on a complete kitchen refurbishment.

It has now purchased two Toro 4000D Batwings to manage the semi rough and two Toro Fairway mowers to promote efficiency whilst maintaining 230 acres of mown grass to the highest cut standard.

The 12 new golf buggies and 10 PowaKaddy electric trolleys will also benefit both golfing members and non-members who do not own certain equipment or cannot always travel with their electric trolley.

Opened in 1996 and based within 400 acres of historical parkland, Cottrell Park Golf Resort offers two championship-maintained golf courses and much more; for more information visit www.cottrellpark.com.

Vale Resort could be a team base for Rugby World Cup

THE Vale Resort, in Hensol, has been named as one of 65 identified venues in Wales and England selected for the approved list of potential Rugby World Cup 2015 team bases.

England Rugby 2015 received applications from more than 80 venues wanting to host the visiting teams for the global event.

However, only 65 venues met the team base criteria and will go onto the next stage of the selection process, in which up to 50 of the approved 65 will be confirmed for use during the six-week rugby tournament.

England Rugby 2015 will confirm the chosen bases following team visits and final selection in mid-2014.

The four-star Vale Resort met the Rugby World Cup 2015 team base criteria of offering indoor and outdoor training facilities, a gym, an indoor swimming pool as well as high-quality hotel facilities.

Paul Beddoe, sales and marketing director at the Vale Resort, said: "We are thrilled to have been recognised as an approved team base for the Rugby World Cup 2015.

"At the Vale Resort, we are very proud of our range of top notch facilities we have on offer and our inclusion as an approved team base confirms this. Supporting global sporting clubs is at the heart of our offering with the Welsh Rugby Union, Cardiff City Football Club and the Cardiff Blues calling the Vale Resort their training-base home."

Weather falls kindly for Kart Club

THE weather gods again looked kindly on Llandow Kart Club as round two of the 2014 season was accompanied by dry and sunny conditions, although a blustery breeze kept drivers on their toes in south Wales.

Around 60 entries ensured that numbers were up on the opening meeting of the season, with a number of new faces and visitors from other clubs adding to the occasion.

With one late scratch, the Bambino category featured the same three drivers as February, and Nathan Browning, Ella Stevens and Max Hall all acquitted themselves well over the full circuit, achieving silver awards all round. Next month, however, Llandow is bracing itself for as many as 30 Bambinos, courtesy of a visit from round two of the Bambino Kart Club's national tour.

The combined Cadet field boasted 15 runners, with the Honda section again being the best represented. However, it was IAME driver Shay Keough who crossed the line first in the final, holding off the Honda-powered Ferguson brothers by less than a second, with Comer winner Max Fenlon in fourth.

Keough was the man to beat in IAME, although Thomas Nippers did secure the first heat, while the Ferguson boys were back on form after a frustrating opening round, with Stuart claiming heat one and brother Oscar heat three. Celtic champion Stuart also had the upper hand in the final, coming home just 0.18secs shy of Keough but claiming the Honda class win while his brother and George Alp-Williams completed the podium. Connor Kearney provided Fenlon's closest opposition in Comers, with Jakob Chamberlain completing the podium, whilst Shayne Clarke was nominated as the weekend's Best Novice.

Junior Honda was once again dominated by Celtic Challenge champion Kristian Prosser, who claimed victory in all three heats before cruising to an eleven-second win in the final, almost exactly repeating his feat from February. Indeed, the entire class came close to repeating last month's formbook, with Patrick Hill and novice Jack Bligh completing the top three each time – remaining in that order despite being closely matched – while rookies Sofia Nardone and Alex Wilkins squabbled over fourth and fifth.

As in round one, Rob Ellis remained unbeaten throughout the Junior Rotax competition, although his margin of victory remained at around four seconds as Thomas Croydon, David Spiller and Tom Ford took it in turns to give chase. Despite Spiller's ever-presence in the top three, it was Croydon who emerged at the head of the battle for runners-up honours in the final, reversing their positions from round one.

MiniMax was again claimed by Riley Phillips, who won his class in three of the four outings, and mixed it with the back of the Juniors in heat three. The day's other win went to Jem Hempworth, who comfortably headed Kieran Clarke and novice Callum Beeken in the battle for second in the main event.

Reigning Welsh champion Yousuf Ashraf saved his best for last in Junior TKM, building on a series of top three heat results to finally come out on top when it mattered in the Final. Alex Rees (twice) and Hugo Holmes had denied Ashraf and Sam Johns earlier in the day, but had to settle for third and fourth respectively in the main event as the top two pulled away to be separated by just 0.12secs at the chequered flag. Rees, however, was later rewarded with Driver of the Day honours.

Senior Honda numbers were boosted by the return of Hugh Jones, but it was this season's graduates from the Junior level that made the headlines in the heats as Ben Stevens (twice) and Cristiano Nardone claimed the wins. Danny Griffiths and Chris Lipscomb were forced to take a watching brief through the qualifiers, but came good in the main event to fill the top two spots respectively, with Nardone also finding the podium after Stevens was left nursing a DNF when it mattered most.

Senior Rotax returned to double figures in March, but proved to be the domain of Gareth Taylor and Dilip Singh. Having finished second overall in round one, Taylor opened up with victory in heats one and three sandwiching third in race two, but it was Singh, after a quiet start, who came good at the end, denying his rivals by a couple of seconds in the final and adding fastest lap to boot. Taylor's day ended with another top three result, but he had to be content with third on the road after Josh Gray stole into second spot to add to his heat two victory. Round one winner Sebastian Hutchinson was only sixth this time around.

Round three of the 2014 championship takes place at South Wales Karting Centre on Sunday, April 20.

CRAIG LLEWELLYN

James and Bradley's delight

JAMES TUDOR, assistant trainer to Llancarfan's Evan Williams, and Bradley Gibbs, who rides out for Aberthin's Tim Vaughan, both had doubles at the well attended Monmouthshire Hunt's Point-To-Point Steeplechases at Llanvapley.

James was successful on Doc Wells (Intermediate) and Repeat Business (Restricted) and Gibbs, who was standing in for the sidelined Evan David, took both divisions of the maiden on the half-brothers Rainbow Haze and Driftwood Haze owned by Phil Dando and trained by Phil's wife Kathryn.

Doc Wells, an 11-year-old bay gelding, who was responsible for his owner Tom Faulkner breaking a leg and an ankle after falling from him in the week, ran on strongly in the closing stages to finish three lengths ahead of Patricktom Boru (John Mathias), and Jeffrey Bird's six-year-old bay gelding Repeat Performance came home 20 lengths ahead of Bob The Butcher (Bradley Gibbs), who put paid to his chances when making a bad mistake three fences from the finish.

The men's open race went to David Llewellyn's Rosies Peacock who, ridden by John Mathias, had 10 lengths to spare over Richard Hambleton's former winning hurdler Pancake (James Tudor).

Bridgend builder Roger Willcox saw his Lauberhorn come from last to first to land the ladies' open race by 15 lengths from Mighty Snazy.

Lauberhorn, a former inmate of Evan Williams' yard, is not known as a mud lover but under Evan's stable lass Anna Metekohy the seven-year-old bay gelding coped well with the holding conditions.

Horse racing mad Connor Brace, aged 12, a pupil of St Clares School, Porthcawl, rode a well-judged race on his 10-year-old bay mare Molly V111 to win the 138 cms pony race.

The 148cms pony race went to Jordon Williams, aged 15, who was riding his 9-year-old chestnut mare Peateaoh.

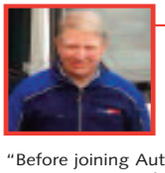
LOCAL BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES
WITH OUR AWARD-WINNING FRANCHISE



RICHARD PRICE, Autosmart Franchisee for Newport

Established in 1979, Autosmart manufacture professional vehicle cleaning products. As market leaders, they are 7 times larger than their nearest competitor. This is why 1 in 3 trucks and 1 in 5 cars are trade cleaned using their products.

Richard Price has been an Autosmart franchisee in the Newport area for over 20 years. After investing hard work and dedication into building up a profitable business, he can now look forward to a comfortable retirement.

"Before joining Autosmart I wanted a new challenge. I wanted to be my own boss and reap the rewards. I'd always been interested in cars and the motor trade so Autosmart seemed perfect for me. 20 years of business later I am pleased to have the freedom of retiring with ease.

"Autosmart have been good to me from day one. I was impressed with the support I was given to launch my business. Their award winning support continued even once I was trading. They are always on the other end of the phone to give me knowledge and advice when I need. Even 20 years of business later, I still spend helpful time with an Autosmart coach to make sure my business stays on track.

"I've enjoyed the independence and also having the flexibility of meeting new people. My customers are so varied, from limousine hires, valeters and sign manufacturers to flooring suppliers, farms and pubs too."

"I'm glad my hard work has paid off and I can now look forward to spending even more quality time with my family and friends."

Llantwit Major junior rugby round-up

WITH the clocks going forward to mark the start of British summertime, Llantwit Major under-16s produced a performance full of spring promise against a valiant CRICC side, who came to play their fast paced off-loading game.

Recent matches between these two sides have produced close finishes. The boys expected another titanic struggle. In reality the home side produced a performance of high quality and ran out very comfortable 48-5 winners, scoring eight high quality tries in the process.

The Llantwit boys needed to respond after a lacklustre performance the previous week, when they scraped a draw away at Llandaff. The intensity of training during the week was taken on to the pitch and from the first whistle the home side set about the visitors and dominated all areas from the start.

Llantwit were quickly on the attack and were able to pin the visitors in their own 22. From the base of an attacking scrum outstanding scrum half Steffen Godwin fed No 10 Iestyn Jones who spotted a small gap in the CRICC defence.

Some fancy footwork saw him exploit the gap from 15 metres out and have the pace and the power to score, despite the attention of two defenders who were left in his wake. An early 5-0 lead was just reward for the dominance of the home pack.

Llantwit were quickly back on the attack and some excellent press defence forced an error from the visitors. The ball was quickly recycled to flying winger Charlie Neale, who squeezed over out wide for another unconverted try.

An excellent clearing kick from just outside his own 22 by Jones turned the pressure back on CRICC by gaining 50 metres. The visitors were unable to control the lineout, and superb work by Croucher at the resulting breakdown saw the ball fed to No8 Tom Winter for him to claim the first of his brace of tries. Jones converted.

Winter was quickly on the scoreboard again with a thundering run from the 22 to score in the corner. Jones sent the conversion attempt just wide

The first half ended with a richly deserved try for pack workhorse Tyler Lewis. He rampaged through from 10 metres in a pre-planned move which was superbly executed to allow Lewis to score near the posts; Jones converted to secure a 29-0 halftime lead.

The second half opened with CRICC looking threatening but again the Llantwit defence was able to repel the visitors efforts. The home coaches had shaken the pack up at halftime and were able to introduce the bulk and power of Prop Julian Boswell and No8 James Cousens.

Both boys had a point to prove and both responded superbly. Boswell was next on the score sheet with an excellent try which was converted by Jones.

The home pack continued to dominate, with reluctant prop forward Morgan Thomas, giving a man of the match performance, using his pace to go close from 60 metres out; he was pulled down just short of the line.

To their immense credit the visitors continued to try to play rugby but the pressure the Llantwit defence put them under caused them to knock on at halfway.

The resulting scrum saw the try of the match from fullback Todd Oldfield. Centres Joe Bunt and Liam Sloan ran superb dummy lines to buy time for Iestyn Jones to feed Oldfield, who hit the line at pace. He went over under the posts to make the conversion easy for Jones.

Oldfield was hungry for more and he ended the home side's scoring blitz with his second try. This time he only had to fall over the line from two metres out after a superb break from the impressive Charlie Neale, who was tackled just short but was able to offload to Oldfield.

With their backs to the wall CRICC responded superbly to finish the match with a well taken try. The visitors had played their part in a fantastic game of rugby. Ultimately they were out-played and out-powered by a Llantwit side who produced their best performance of the season.

Next up for Llantwit is the visit of Pentyrch, who will provide another stern test for the boys.

LLANTWIT MAJOR AMMOKNIGHTS 44, GLAMORGAN WANDERERS 12

The AmmoKnights (under-12s) welcomed Glamorgan Wanderers to the recreation ground on a glorious Sunday morning.

Llantwit started with a bang and as the ball got spread wide, wing Zac Williams outpaced the defence to score his first try for the AmmoKnights.

As the game looked to settle down the AmmoKnights started to pressure the Wanderers line and flanker Oskar Williams picked up and drove over to increase the lead to 10-0.

Two minutes later it was 15-0 as Ethan White took advantage of some sluggish defending to ease over in the corner. Sam Croucher soon added the fourth as Wanderers left the back of the ruck exposed to pick up and sprint clear, taking the scoreline to 20-0 with only 14 minutes on the clock.

Ninety seconds later Morgan Jenkins exposed holes in the Wanderers defence and it was 25-0 and looking ominous for the visitors. It took until the last play of the half before Zac Williams added his second; some great work by the backs put him into space and he easily beat the opposition to score under the posts. The conversion was slotted over by Morgan Greenway and the halftime score was 32-0.

The second half saw Ollie Wong and Oskar Williams in Wanderers colours and they started causing problems for the Llantwit defence. Within two minutes of the second half Wanderers had their first points following a good close quarter try.

The game tightened up with Llantwit trying push the play and Wanderers keeping the ball close by and it took until the 18th minute of the second half for Wanderers to get their second try.

At 32-12 Wanderers were now pushing hard to get back into the game but the reintroduction of Ethan White and Morgan Jenkins soon dampened and thoughts of a comeback as they added a try each with the AmmoKnights running out 44-12 winners.

A big hand has to go to Luke Hinken-Evans, Ben Reilly, Ollie Wong and Oskar Williams, who all played for the opposition and worked hard, with Oskar Williams performing well for both sides.

SILVER MEDALS FOR UNDER-9S!

ON a beautiful Mothering Sunday, Llantwit Major under-9s took part in the Cardiff and Vale District tournament; there were 16 teams taking part in the tournament, split into four groups. In Llantwit's group was Rhiwbina Grey Squirrels, Pentyrch and Llandaff Navy.

Llantwit's first pool match was against Llandaff Navy. Llantwit started well, and the first try of the match was from Logan. Both teams worked hard, tackling and passing well. Sam H and Rhys worked an amazing switch pass, which even had the referee fooled, allowing Sam H to go on and score.

It was try for try throughout the game and Llandaff were making Llantwit work hard. Sam A made two great breaks through the Llandaff defence to score twice, finishing their first pool game with a win, 4-3 to Llantwit.

The next match was against Pentyrch. This was a very physical, hard-hitting game. Crunching tackles were being made by both teams. Llantwit's Sam H was tackling everything that came near him, forcing Pentyrch backwards on a number of occasions.

After some great team play, Rhys skipped over the line to score Llantwit's first try. Pentyrch were quick to follow suit, putting pressure on Llantwit's defence, and sneaking over the line for their first try of the game.

The second half of the game saw more hard tackles and great defence from both sides. It was due to hard work and planned moves that Dylan W charged over the line to score Llantwit's second try of the game, and the final try of this match. Final score Llantwit 2, Pentyrch 1.

Llantwit were looking good to get through to the quarter finals, with one more pool match to go against Rhiwbina Grey Squirrels. Llantwit were out to win this game and finish top of their group.

They started the match running hard and fast, with Josh scoring the first try of the match. Llantwit worked hard at opening the field up, which made way for Dylan M to score two fantastic tries running on the wing.

Josh and Iwan were working hard, chasing play backwards, forcing Rhiwbina to make errors. Logan broke through the middle of the Rhiwbina defence to score. Rhiwbina were not giving up, and they pushed Llantwit's defence hard. Tom and Josh made some great try-saving tackles.

Rhiwbina were only able to break through once in the match and it was Llantwit's Sam A that finished the match with a fantastic run through to score. Final score 5-1 to Llantwit. Llantwit had won their pool, and they were through to the quarter finals! Llantwit were to play runners up of group 3, Llandaff Sky.

After a quick team talk, telling the boys to keep calm and play a simple game, Llantwit were ready. It was a hard and fast running game, and Llantwit's Dylan M ran in two quick tries at the start.

Aneurin and Corey, and some fantastic tackles, slowed Llandaff down. It was Sam A who broke through the Llandaff defence to score next, taking the halftime score to 3-0 to Llantwit.

The second half saw Llandaff fight back. They passed well, made some amazing runs, but only once were they able to get past Llantwit's strong defence. Logan pushed and twisted his way past a number of defenders to score his third try of the tournament, but it was Llantwit's Caleb who scored the final try of the match. Final score 5-1 to Llantwit and they had made it to the semi-final!

CRICC Gwrydd were Llantwit's opponents for the semi-finals. CRICC were first off the mark, but Llantwit quickly stepped up their game, some quick hands from Owen, and some fantastic running from Jack, opened the field making space for Rhys to run in his second try of the tournament.

It was Owen who scored the next two tries with some amazing footwork, and great speed on the wing, and the halftime the score was 3-1 to Llantwit.

Only once more were CRICC able to break through Llantwit's defence.

Jack and Sam A made some amazing runs on the wing, and it was Sam A for who was able to get over the try line twice more before the final whistle. Final score 5-2 to Llantwit and they were now in the District final!

The final was to be against a very strong St Peters team and it was a fantastic, nail-biting match.

St Peters opened the scoring with their player crashing through Llantwit's line. Llantwit worked hard to try and bring the scores level, but the St Peters defence was outstanding, and they scored again.

Llantwit had to work at keeping the ball in their possession and playing together, passing the ball through their players. Just before the halftime whistle Owen broke through the defence and threw himself over the line to bring the halftime score to 2-1 to St Peters.

The halftime talk for Llantwit was just to keep calm, make no silly mistakes and keep possession of the ball and the tries would come. Back on the pitch, the players put everything they had into the game. There was awesome tackling and fantastic running from both teams.

It was St Peters who scored the next try after a silly mistake from the Llantwit defence. In the closing minutes of the game, Llantwit's Sam A pulled out an amazing run through the field to score the final try of the game. The final score was 3-2 to St Peters.

So it was silver medals for Llantwit Major under-9s - a fantastic day of rugby from everyone, we areso proud of all the boys! Well done!

Squad: Owen Hill, Sam Harry, Josh Wakeham, Sam Alexander, Jack Taylor, Iwan Thomas, Corey Lougher, Aneurin Price, Tomas Roberts, Logan Pike, Dylan Wright, Caleb Beare, William Harrison-Watt, Rhys Greenaway and Dylan Morgan.

A massive thanks to the coaches, Phil, Pete and Martin, and to all the parents and grandparents who came to support the team.

Cowbridge defeated by Barry RFC

DESPITE a chilly start to the day, last Saturday Cowbridge entertained Barry at the Athletic Field in sunshine but went down by 10-25.

After only two minutes Barry's scrum half put over a penalty. Just minutes later there was pressure on Cowbridge's line when what looked like a perfectly proper grounding of the ball behind the try line was ruled a carry over by full back Richie Howson; however, Cowbridge defended the pick up and drive from the scrum.

There were penalty misses from both sides. At the mid-point Cowbridge had weathered early pressure and now there were good runs from centre Nick Davies and No 8 Ryan Hall. Cowbridge levelled the score on 23 minutes with a penalty from scrum half Carwyn Morgan.

On 28 minutes a poor decision gave Barry a scrum five metres out and a series of scrums followed but superb defence kept Barry out.

Pressure told, however, and after 35 minutes a penalty try was awarded.

After a battling first half the score was 3-10.

Tom James came on at scrum half and Cowbridge nearly scored from the kick off as the Barry right wing fumbled the ball and pressure on Barry's line saw No 8 Hall stopped inches short.

On the eight minute mark, with Cowbridge still attacking, a pass back bounced off a supporting player, went loose and the Barry No 13 hacked on over 70 metres to win the race to the line for an unconverted try.

On 12 minutes a break by Morgan, now at full back, and a switch sent Davies on another good run but his pass to the support went to ground. Rhys Price came on for hooker Connor Boys at the mid-point.

Dan Jay at flanker produced a superb tackle to stop Barry's full back scoring and on 25 minutes Barry increased their lead with a penalty which also saw Jay sinbinned.

With six minutes to go Barry scored down the left wing and their No 9 put over a great conversion.

With minutes left Geraint and Rhys Thomas came on in the pack. Cowbridge rallied in the final minutes and from a quick penalty in Barry's 22, Ryan Hall drove forward, the ball moved right and hooker Price popped the ball to flanker Rhod Walker to break through for a converted try.

Just before the final whistle Barry had their prop sent to the touchline.

On the bright side, second rows Matt Wright and Kyle Jones won a good share of lineout ball, while the back row of Walker, Hall and Jay worked hard. Harri Thomas had a fine debut on the wing. The team tackled well but Barry were worthy winners.

By the time of this report Cowbridge should have played Bryncethin, and this Saturday we have Club Caerdydd away, kick off 2.30pm.

All points at this stage are vital. The situation next season does not look settled and we want to finish as strongly as we can.

Tries galore for under-8s

COWBRIDGE under-8s travelled to Pentyrch and with large squads in both clubs, managed to play nine matches with three teams each.

Team one's games turned into an absolute try fest, with Cowbridge taking the honours in the opening game with scores from Jacob Robson (2), Ben Stephenson (2), Will Brennan (2) and Josh Canning (2). Final score 8-3 win for Cowbridge.

Pentyrch fought back to take game two but Cowbridge still showed attacking flair with Ben (2), Will (1) and Josh (2) once again on the score sheet. Final score 7-5 win to Penytrch.

With the matches all square the final game was a ding dong battle, with Ben continuing his fine scoring form, racking up a hat trick of tries.

The loudest cheer of the day however was saved for Mabli Davies who zipped her way over to score an excellent try. Pentyrch kept up their own pressure with the game finishing even 4-4.

Team two started slowly out of the blocks in their first game as Pentyrch ran in three tries, only countered by a skilful solitary effort by James Lord. Final score 3-1 win to Pentyrch.

What a contrast in game two as a rock solid defence laid the platform for some electrifying rugby.

Ned Rees (3), James Collingridge (2), Charlie Berkley-Smith (1) and James Lord (1) provided a great response to bring Cowbridge level on games. Final score 7-1 win to Cowbridge.

A few personnel changes were made between teams two and three for the final game but the good form was maintained. Game three was a real team effort with six players finding their way over the try line. A robust Cowbridge defence and slick handling allowed individual tries for Osian Bruce, Henry Pugh, Sam Jackson, Henry Whitehouse, Charlie Berkley-Smith and Henry Davies. Final score 6-4 to Cowbridge.

Team three had a similarly slow start with Pentyrch pressuring Cowbridge into a number of handling errors. Ioan Philips showed great awareness and support to score from a Sam Sheppard pass and Osian Bruce raced down the line to score in the corner, but their early mistakes cost them dear. Final score 3-2 win to Pentyrch.

After a stern team talk, and with the bit between their teeth, Cowbridge began to find their form in game two with Joe Davies notching up a hat trick and Henry Whitehouse supplying Osian Bruce with his customary dash over the line. Final score 4-3 win to Cowbridge.

Harry New stole the show in game three with some scintillating running and support play to plunder four tries. Cowbridge's other score came from James Lord following a strong run and offload by Ned Rees. Final score 5-4 win to Cowbridge.

Cowbridge darts league round-up

ON Tuesday, March 25, the finals night line-up in the men's doubles was determined.

It was a good night for pairs from Llanharry; so the final, to be played on Saturday, May 31, will be Paul Newton and Tony Denscombe (Llanharry) versus Stephen Newton, Victor John, and Mike Newth (Llanharry).

The league standings after 15 matches remain: Llanharry (121 points), Edmondes B (103), Edmondes C (70), Cross Inn (69), Hare and Hounds (67), Edmondes A (66), Farmers Arms (61), Highwayman Inn (59), Old Post Ladies (34), The Star Inn (25).

The next matches are on Tuesday, April 8, when the finals night line-up in the men's singles will be determined in matches to be played at the Edmondes Arms.

The quarter-final matches are Cedric Simmonite (Edmondes A) versus Tony Denscombe (Llanharry); Nigel Thomas (Farmers Arms) versus Paul Butcher (Edmondes B); Simon Reader (Hare & Hounds) versus Victor John (Llanharry) and John Davies (Edmondes C) versus Dai Thomas (Edmondes B). The first matches start at 8.30pm and spectators are welcome.

For further information e-mail Paul at cowbridgedarts@gmail.com, up-to-date information can be found on the website: www.darts.apsn.co.uk.

It is time to start thinking about next season! If a group of you is interested in forming a team (six players minimum) and your local pub is willing to host you, get in touch and register your interest.

Under-15s' winning tour

COWBRIDGE under-15s completed a successful tour of Bath and Cardiff with two highly impressive wins.

Firstly Cowbridge defeated a Bath and Avon combined side containing a number of Bath Academy players by five tries to three, 31-19.

Tries by Cai Evans, Rhys Beynon, Cai Irwin, Matthew Keating and Dan Bunney, plus two conversions by Rhys Beynon and one by Cai Evans, gave the visitors an excellent start to their short tour.

Good performances in a pack that dominated their opponents as the game progressed, allowed Cowbridge to release their superior backs to play a fast and open game which the west country side found hard to contain.

Forwards Ben Terry, Harry Hopkins and Will Cousins were outstanding in defence while Tomas Evans-Williams, James Holder and Seán Davies were the pick of the backs.

Cowbridge completed the double over CRICC, 38-19, in a game played in perfect conditions and in good spirit. Try scorers for the visitors were Dan Bunney (2), Cai Irwin (2), James Holder and Josh Evans, who raced 50 yards for the try of the tour; Rhys Beynon converted four of the tries.

Cowbridge dominated most of the forward exchanges, with second row Otto Guwy gaining valuable lineout ball and Owain Jenkins, Paddy Doyle and Duncan Ace outstanding in the loose. The Cowbridge backs were in superb form, led by scrum half Osian john and supported by Harrison Stevens and Cai Evans.

A win for Tim

ABERTHIN trainer Tim Vaughan started last week on a winning note.

On Monday, his Duneen Point, partnered by Richard Johnson, was successful at Taunton at odds of 8-1 and at his local track Chepstow on Tuesday his Fayette County won the opening novices' hurdle beating the Nicky Henderson trained Call The Cops by a short head in an exciting finish. Fayette County a 7-4 chance was ridden by Dougie Costello.

BAD LUCK FOR COWBRIDGE COMPREHENSIVE HOCKEY TEAM!

THE Year 8 hockey team played against Llanishen, Glantaf and Whitchurch in the county finals.

Cowbridge played Llanishen first and unfortunately lost 3-0. Ffion McNamee was voted as player of the match.

Ffion pulled her hamstring during this game and could not take any further part in the tournament.

In the second game Cowbridge drew against Whitchurch 1-1 with Emily Jenkins scoring; Emily was also nominated as player of the match.

In the third match Cowbridge played Glantaf; Glantaf won 4-0, winning the tournament. Freya Johnson, Cowbridge's goalkeeper, was voted player of the game for her outstanding saves throughout the game.

The Cowbridge team also included Aimee Jones, Ffion Langston, Rachel Anstey and Olivia Mitchell in defence. Meriel Clode, Freya Evans, Georgia Armitage, Eleanor Acey in midfield and Mali Howells, Sophie Rees and Megan Hodgson in attack.

The difference between the teams is more players from Glantaf and Llanishen are club players. Local clubs include Barry and Bridgend for those interested in improving their skills.

NETBALL

Annabel Hegarty and Selina Radcliffe played for Cardiff and Vale County Netball team in the Welsh Inter-counties tournament on the weekend.

Annabel plays goal attack and goal shooter in the A team and Selina Radcliffe is vice-captain and plays wing defence in the B team. Both teams beat seven Welsh regions to be crowned A and B team champions.

Primary pupils enjoy hockey tournament

ON March 25, Cowbridge Comprehensive opened its gates to the first Primary Schools Hockey Festival.

Over 160 children attended from six local schools. The weather was fantastic and the children enjoyed a six-a-side tournament and fun stations, skill stations along with Wordsearch and a quiz all geared towards the forthcoming Commonwealth Games.

There was even a giant good luck card with photographs of current players which all the children could sign for the men and womens' hockey teams in the Games!

The standard of hockey was amazing, and the tournament was organised by hockey agent for the Vale and Bridgend, Judith Powell.

"The day went really well and for that I have to thank assistants Bev Rogers, Sue Morley and Lis Tomlinson," Judith commented.

"The students from the school were highly involved and umpired the games as well as helping at the skill stations.

"A massive thanks to Chris Ferrier, the 5x60 officer at the school, and also the PE department for helping secure the use of the pitch, and lastly the primary school teachers and pupils - it couldn't have happened without them!"

The schools taking part were Llangan, Llanfair, Llansannor, St Helens, Pendoylan and Y Bont Faen.

If you want to know more about hockey in the Cowbridge area please contact Judith on 07790267419.

The AASE team gains revenge!

THE Maesteg-based AASE South Wales Rugby League Academy side got their revenge for their one conversion defeat at home before Christmas, by beating the Bristol Academy 28-22 on their own turf.

The Welsh travelled to Filton College last Wednesday with a just a 15-man squad as they were depleted with an outbreak of mumps, with even the head of the coaching staff, Jon Ellis, catching the virus last week!

However after a week of re-evaluating their style of attack and the defensive cycle, the Welsh were in confident mood and within four minutes of kick off Bristol were cut to pieces by hooker Zac Williams who scored under the posts, Shane Lee converting.

Another try at close range from Williams was followed by one from Daniel Maiden.

Bristol then managed to score an opportunist try only for Regan Grace to respond, Zac Williams converting.

Bristol scored to make it 12-22, but the Welsh soon made the game safe through Zac Williams before Bristol scored two interception tries.
